

Clear space

The logo should never be placed very close to text or other design elements on layouts. The minimal clear space needed around the logo is defined by the width of the o letter in the wordmark.

In this area there should never be any other logos, texts, distracting elements in photography, or other kinds of graphical elements.

