INVEST WITH PURPOSE.
GROW WITH IMPACT.

OUR STORY

Born from personal experience.
Built for lasting impact.

Nathan Palmer grew up as a pastor's son, watching his father lead faithfully—but often at great personal cost. With two brothers and limited means, Nathan saw his dad struggle to feed their family while still generously covering church expenses and helping pay staff. That tension—between heart and hardship—left a lasting impression.

Nathan discovered early on that he had a gift for business. Over time, he pursued commercial real estate and found success building and developing income-producing properties. But his heart never left the Church. He longed to use what God had given him to help pastors like his dad—and churches like the one he grew up in.

Pastor Justin Dailey, a close friend and the lead pastor of a thriving church in Orlando, shares a similar heart. Known for his generosity, Justin has used his own business savvy to help other churches grow and become financially sustainable.

Together, Nathan and Justin launched Kingdom Resource Fund—a mission-driven investment platform designed to help churches build wealth, create stability, and fund ministry for generations to come.

Investors receive competitive returns, while a substantial portion is reinvested into charitable impact and Kingdom causes—empowering churches, ministries, and outreach organizations across the globe.

Because when churches are financially free, they can dream again, give more, and boldly advance the Gospel.

ABOUT THE FUND

Kingdom Resource Fund is a faith-aligned investment opportunity designed for churches and mission-driven individuals. Your investment grows through real estate, and a portion of the return supports charitable causes—amplifying impact both financially and eternally.

Our Mission is to: equip local churches with the financial resources they need to thrive—while advancing the Kingdom of God through strategic real estate investments that create lasting global impact.

We believe in creating value that goes beyond financial return—impact that changes lives, strengthens the Church, and advances the Kingdom. With compassion as our compass and integrity as our standard, we partner with churches to build something that lasts far beyond ourselves.

Every investment made through King Resource Fund doesn't just grow — it keeps giving. As projects are completed and recapitalized, funds are reinvested into future opportunities, creating a multiplying effect that builds long-term impact for your church, your community, and the Kingdom. It's not just about one project — it's about sustained transformation.

How are the funds managed?

All funds are professionally managed by the experienced team at Leaders Real Estate. We handle site selection, development, leasing, and long-term asset management to ensure the fund's success and stability.

What are the risks?

As with any investment, there are risks—including market fluctuations and project-specific challenges. However, we mitigate risk by diversifying across projects and only selecting developments with strong fundamentals and tenant demand.

Can individuals invest too?

Yes! While our fund is designed with churches in mind, individuals who are mission-minded and meet eligibility requirements are welcome to invest.

What kind of reporting do I get?

We provide updates every 6 months that include financial performance, project progress, charitable impact, and upcoming opportunities—keeping you informed every step of the way.
