

July 2 Orienteering, Yukon University

Fifty-nine orienteers came out to this long-distance style event. The weather was warm and humid, but not too buggy. The beginner and novice courses wove their way through the dense trail network next to McIntyre Creek. The intermediate and short advanced courses enjoyed the open forests and negative topography found off the trails in the same area. Advanced and expert courses were shrubbier and involved some steep climbs and descents in the stinky lake area. Patrick Stewart-Jones posted the fastest time on the Novice course. Glenda Koh had the top time in the Intermediate course. Kevin Jones, Kate Pearson and Ian Turcotte all finished within a minute of each other on the Short Advanced course, with Kevin having the fastest time. Darren Holcombe had a clean run on the Advanced course to win the category. Forest Pearson took the top spot on the Expert course in a close competition with Leif Blake. Course planning by Colin Abbott with support from Afan Jones. Many thanks to Emilie Stewart-Jones, Matthias Purdon and Sarah Murray for running the registration table, thanks to Erik Blake for taking care of results and to Kevin Jones, Emilie Stewart-Jones and Bob Sagar for helping pick up controls.
