The ECE Research Forum successfully organized a Skill Development Programme (SDP) titled “Technical Documentation and Research Writing Using LaTeX”, aimed at enhancing research documentation skills among students and faculty on 21st January 2026.

The programme focused on introducing participants to LaTeX, a powerful typesetting tool widely used for preparing technical documents, theses, and research papers. The sessions covered the fundamentals of LaTeX, document structuring, mathematical typesetting, figure and table handling, bibliography management, and best practices for preparing journal and conference manuscripts.

The SDP was co-ordinated by Dr. Sharmila B. S., whose guidance ensured a well-structured and interactive learning experience. Participants gained hands-on exposure and practical insights into producing professional-quality technical documents, which is essential for academic research and publications.
