Making more than one account can cause problems such as being blocked or banned from the site. Betway keeps track of all users' accounts to make sure everything stays fair. If someone gets found with multiple accounts they might get their account suspended or closed. This rule helps prevent cheating, bonus abuse and other unfair actions. If you forget your login details do not create a new one. Instead use the password recovery option or contact customer support. This way you can get back in without breaking any of Betway's rules on online casino betting. ========== When using multiple devices or households you must be careful. Betway may flag accounts from the same IP address as being multiple accounts. If you and another person are both using the same device just let customer support know so they dont think its a fake account. Following all of the rules is very important on Betway online casino to avoid any problems with your account.
