Lost tv series episode guide

48 people from Australia are on their way to the US when their plane crashes on an unknown island that's 1000 miles off course. They need to survive while trying to get rescued. A group of them tries to send out a distress signal but gets a weird transmission back. Some secrets are revealed, like Kate has a mysterious past, and some people start getting hurt. Locke goes hunting with Kate and Michael, but things don't go as planned. Jack starts seeing visions of his dad and Claire is having trouble with her pregnancy. There's tension among the group, especially between Jin and Michael. Sayid takes matters into his own hands when Shannon has an asthma attack, but then he gets in danger himself. The island seems to have its secrets and dangers, like a mysterious creature that attacks them, and they have to figure out how to stay alive and get off the island. As tensions rise among the castaways following a burial, suspicions and fears begin to consume them. An unlikely survivor vows revenge as tempers fray, while Claire and Charlie struggle to soothe her newborn. Meanwhile, Jack senses foul play when Michael falls ill on the raft, and Kate's past is revealed. The mysterious hatch is shown to some survivors, and Walt warns Locke of a threat. A French woman arrives with dire news about a group known as the Others, just as the raft crew encounters an unexpected surprise at sea. Back on the island, attempts are made to open the hatch, while a visitor poses a risk to Claire's infant son.
