Locations in Hollow Knight consists of the ruins of the forgotten kingdom of Hallownest. At the surface of Hallownest also lies a small village called Dirtmouth where the last and surviving insects of Hallownest inhabit the village. The environment of Hallownest provides the player an opportunity of exploring and discovering exquisite areas that will allow you to understand and rediscover the secrets of the fallen kingdom. Exploration in Hollow Knight Exploration in Hollow Knight can be made effortlessly by purchasing a Map and Quill, this will allow The Knight to map a discovered area such as rooms, passages, and chambers that lie hidden within Hallownest. First, an incomplete map is needed that can be purchased from Cornifer, where usually, Cornifer appears each time a player defeats an area Boss. And the Quill can, later on, be purchased from Iselda - in case you miss the chance to interact with Cornifer, Iselda can also sell parts of the map for a higher rate. Once players have purchased both items and have discovered new areas, players need to locate and rest at a Bench in order to update the map. Benches in Hollow Knight are checkpoints that are scattered around the map. The Knight can use the Bench for several reasons, such as a respawn area, restoration of Health, equipping and managing Charms, and to update the map. Some benches in the map can be used freely, while others require The Knight to pay a small amount of Geo by using a Toll Machine for it to be used - as you progress through the game, a Bench Pin can be purchased from Iselda that will allow the players to reveal the locations of each Bench in an area that has both been discovered and updated in the map. This Hollow Knight: Silksong Sinner's Road Map Guide will help you unlock Sinner's Road map easily in the game. Sinner's Road Map Guide - Hollow Knight: Silksong While you can enter Sinner's Road from multiple entrances from Bilewater and Greymoor, if you want to find the map quickly, you should approach this area using the top-right entrance in Greymoor. We have marked it on the map below: Starting Location From this location, enter and start making your way towards the right section of the room. Near the end of this room, jump above a platform and then enter the door on the right to reach the next area. In the next area, you will come across a logo for a bench. Ignore the sign, but start moving up using the walls available. When you reach the spikes at the top, jump above this platform and enter the door to reach the next area. This next area is filled with water, so use the platforms and the spikey wheels to bounce off them. Keep progressing right. Once you cross the section with the first set of spikey wheels, go a little to the right, and then jump up the wall. Above, use the platforms and spikey wheels to reach the left end of this section. Then use the wall to go a little higher, and then start coming back to the right side using the spikey wheels and platforms once again. After the two spikey wheels, there is a platform. Jump to it and then jump to the left side. After reaching the end of this platform, jump down to the locked entrance below. There is a gear mechanism below this platform. Hit it and it will open the door. Now go inside this door. Inside this next chamber, drop down on the platform ahead, and then further down into the room which has the bench sign. You will need to dash after the second platform jump to ensure that you make it to the right landing. Enter the room, and you will come to a rotating spikey wheel. Use it to reach the next platform. Make it to the platform, and you will not only find a bench here but also Shakra, scribbling in her parchment. Speak with her, and she will sell you the map for 90 Rosaries. That is all for this guide. Additional Hollow Knight: Silksong guides are linked below: This concludes our Hollow Knight: Silksong Sinner's Road Map Guide. Underworks Map Guide - Hollow Knight: Silksong You must have the Drifter's Cloak and Cling Grip skills for this. To find the Underworks map, you should start in Grand Gate, near the entrance that leads to the Underworks. This is in the lower-right section of Grand Gate, right after the sequence where you witness the elevator crashing. We have marked its location on the map below: Starting location Once you arrive here, head right and purchase the Bench that comes your way. Save your game here and start making your way deeper into Underworks by hitting the switch on the right side wall. It will open a door for you through which you can proceed to the next area. Head right into the next area, avoid/fight the two mosquito guards, and then use the right-side wall to cling and move up. Keep going up until you come to a platform that blocks your progress. Jump across the platforms with Cling Grip Here, use the platforms on the left side to go to the other side, and then climb over to the right side platform once again. Here, use the same strategy of using the right wall to go up and then jump left when you cannot go any further. Use the platforms on the left to reach the upper area. Kill the mosquitoes or they will make your life hell Then stick to the left side of the wall and jump down to reach a switch. Hit the switch. This will clear the blockade on the right side of the wall so you can use it again to go further up. Flip this switch Keep going up until you are blocked again due to a platform. Jump onto the middle platform and then land on the platform on the left side, marked by the sign. Look for the sign Use the door and enter the next area. Deep Docks is the next region after The Marrows, and you will need to purchase its map from Shakra by finding his location. Your first interaction with Shakra in both The Marrows and Bone Bottom only nets you the maps for Moss Grotto and The Marrows, so when you arrive in Deep Docks, you will need to find him again and buy the map of Deep Docks along with other accessories like Bellway Pins and others again by spending some Rosary Beads. This Hollow Knight: Silksong Deep Docks Map Guide will guide you on where you can find the map merchant in Deep Docks. Deep Docks Map Guide - Hollow Knight: Silksong Before heading there, make sure you have at least 50 Rosary Beads with you so that you can purchase the map once we get there. We will start at the Prison Bench, which is located on the right side of the Bell Beast location in The Marrows. From this bench, start heading to the right side, deeper into The Marrows. Follow the path and keep heading to the right side, but also while sticking to the bottom path. Do not climb up on any platform unless the bottom one is a closed end. Keep following, and you will eventually find your way out of this area and into the vertical chamber. At the bottom of this chamber, you will see some red flowers that open up with your dive attack. Go down from here as well and jump into the chamber below. Now, start heading right as well while killing or avoiding any enemies that come into your way. Once you exit this room from the right side, you will arrive at the entrance of the large door, which leads to the Skull Ant miniboss chamber. Drop down from here as well. Once you drop down from here, in the next area, there is a door, inside which you will find a bench, so if you want to save your game again, this is a good spot to do it because you may die in the next section if you are not careful. Now go back and continue your journey down and right. Jump below the crumbling platforms on the spikes and drop down into the next room, where you will encounter some lava. Drop down on the first platform with the big charging skull bug, but quickly drop down one platform and then further down until you start seeing lava fumes in the background. Continue moving to the right side using the platforms available to you. This path now leads to the Deep Docks. Keep moving right, fighting or avoiding enemies, until you reach the next room. Now keep moving right and pass the two next rooms, and when you enter the third, you will start hearing Shakra's singing. Drop down the platforms and you will find Shakra standing there on the floor. Speak with her, and she will sell you the map for 50 Rosary Beads. That is all for this guide.
