

Submission Policy and Release Form

CLUBS Productions, a division of Storybook LLC (“the Company”) would like to thank you, the undersigned owner (“the Owner”), for your interest in submitting a screenplay, book, or literary material (“the Work”). Please review and agree to the following submission policies before uploading your material.

1. Full Copyright / Ownership of Submitted Work

The Company will only accept material submitted in electronic PDF form through the official Storybook submission portal. By submitting your Work, you confirm that you are the sole owner and originator (or authorized co-owner) of the Work and have full legal rights to submit it for consideration.

2. Disclosure of Material Is Not Confidential

You acknowledge that your submission is not confidential. The Company may discuss or evaluate your Work internally with employees, contractors, and collaborators. You agree that submitting your Work does not create a confidential, fiduciary, or professional relationship of any kind.

3. Submission Without Compensation

You understand that Storybook is under no obligation to compensate you for submitting your Work. However, if the Company later expresses interest in acquiring, developing, or publishing your Work, a separate written agreement will be executed.

4. Submission Without Prejudice

The Company’s review of your Work does not waive its right to confirm, research, or protect its existing and future intellectual property.

5. Origination by the Company

You acknowledge that the Company may already be developing similar concepts, stories, or materials, either internally or through outside sources. You agree not to claim that Storybook misappropriated ideas or elements that are coincidentally similar to your submission.

6. AI-Generated or Assisted Material

Any material that has been created or influenced by AI tools must be clearly disclosed at the time of submission. Undisclosed AI-generated content may result in immediate disqualification.

7. Qualification and Modification

By submitting, you confirm that you are at least 18 years of age. These submission conditions may only be changed in writing and must be signed by an authorized officer of Storybook LLC.

8. Governing Law

This policy and all submissions are governed by the laws of the State of Alabama.

Acknowledgment

By submitting your Work through the Storybook portal, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Submission Policy and Release Form, and that you agree to all terms outlined above.