The study is built around a program that helps you quit smoking by using nicotine replacement therapy. Eligible participants will be given free nicotine patches and lozenges, and offered self-help materials to make the transition to becoming smoke-free easier. Participants may be asked to attend in-person visits at 3535 Market Street in Philadelphia or by remote video calls that can be completed from your home. You will complete a 1-hour Intake appointment and 5 treatment and assessment visits that will last 30-60 minutes each. Whether you are asked to participate in-person, by video call, or a mix of both would be randomly determined by a computer. Finally, if eligible, you will have the opportunity to earn up to $180 for completing all parts of the study. Do you have any questions at this point?

Are you still interested in participating?
