

WRITE A SHORT STORY...

Your character’s grandmother hands them a small wooden box, telling them it’s been passed down for generations, but must only be opened when “the time is right.”

What’s Inside?

Write a sentence imagining what might be inside the box. Is it something ordinary, historical, or valuable?