

Dúnedain Research

Unique First-Party Data

At Dúnedain Research, our insights begin with proprietary, first-party data meticulously collected and curated from in-depth interviews, enterprise environments, technology ecosystems, and user studies.

Practitioner Skillset

Our team doesn't just study the tools — we use them. Dúnedain Research analysts hold current product certifications and actively test new software and systems.

Compelling Data-Informed Writing for Specialist & Generalist Audiences

Great research deserves great storytelling. We craft clear, data-informed narratives that resonate across audiences — from seasoned technologists to executive stakeholders and organization workforces.

Our research is grounded in original data streams that reflect real-world conditions, challenges and transformations, unlike AI-generated or other recycled information.
