ROYAL YORK

FAIRMONT ROYAL YORK

TORONTO

HISTORY OF THE HOTEL

On June 11, 1929, the hotel officially opened as The Royal York. It was the tallest building in the British Commonwealth and quickly set the hospitality standard. The magnificent hotel became known as a city within a city, rising in 28 floors of architectural splendor and replete with mechanical genius, an opulence never before seen in Toronto. It boasted 1,048 rooms - each with radios, private showers and bathtubs. The 1.5 acres of public rooms included a 12-bed hospital, 12,000-book library and ten ornate passenger elevators. The Concert Hall featured a full stage and mammoth pipe organ weighing 50 tons, which surpassed anything else in Canada with 300 miles of copper wire. There was a glass-enclosed roof garden, the largest hotel kitchen in Canada with a bakery that could produce over 15,000 French rolls a day, a 66-ft. long switchboard managed by 35 telephone Operators, as well as it's own bank and golf course (now known as St. George Golf & Country).

Fairmont Royal York continues a legacy with renowned hospitality as one of the most luxurious hotels in Toronto. Although the years have brought changes, many features are still intact - the magnificent hand-painted ceilings, the travertine pillars, ornate furnishings, crystal chandeliers and wall hangings. An icon of Toronto's entertainment industry, and one of the city's most filmed locations, Fairmont Royal York has been home to illustrious guests including Ella Fitzgerald, Duke Ellington, Tina Turner, and James Brown. On the big screen, Fairmont Royal York, like The Plaza in New York before her, has been featured in numerous movies. Guest rooms have taken audiences to Boston, New York, Poland, Vienna and the U.K. Without ever leaving Toronto.

At Fairmont Royal York, the majority of our meeting space is conveniently located on two adjacent floors. Larger rooms are located on our Convention Floor with its soaring ceilings and elegant décor. One floor below, on the Main Mezzanine, is a wide range of smaller rooms, ideal for break-outs, or for smaller groups. This floor is distinguished by rooms with unique decor—some reflecting the heritage of Canada’s provinces, and others evoking the history of the hotel itself, with wood panelling and sparkling chandeliers. These two floors are conveniently connected via an escalator, a bank of ten elevators, and two stair cases.

WELCOME TO FAIRMONT ROYAL YORK'S ROOFTOP OASIS

Located 14 stories high – 200 feet above ground.

ABOUT OUR BEES

In 2008, Fairmont Royal York was the first hotel in the world to introduce a rooftop apiary. Each summer, during our peak season, the apiary's seven hives are home to half a million honey bees and seven queens. Toronto Beekeepers Collective and Urban Beekeeper Melanie Coates tends to the bees. The bees produce an average of 400 lbs of honey each year, which has won awards at the Royal Winter Fair for over five years. Honey is a popular ingredient that our Chefs like to incorporate into our restaurant's seasonal dishes, Afternoon Tea and unique in-room amenities. However, the yield of rooftop honey is not large enough to be exclusively used throughout the hotel year-round. In this, we take the opportunity to support Rosewood Estate Winery, located in Beamsville, to share with our guests the estate's local wildflower honey. At the end of September, our beekeeping partners join us for the annual honey harvest. The culinary team and hotel colleagues gather around to watch and learn their harvesting methods and the sustainable importance of the honey bees.

@BEEGrill @TorontoBeekeepersCollective

14TH IN LINE

In partnership with Dillion's Small Batch Distillers, 14th In Line Gin is a smooth, easy sipping spirit crafted using botanicals from our rooftop and Dillon's garden. It was exclusively made for Fairmont Royal York and is only available in our dining venues.

ROOFTOP GARDEN

Next to the bees on our 14th floor rooftop lies an urban oasis for pollinators, chefs and avid gardeners. Cared for by our Culinary Team, they start planting at the end of May, and by the dog days of summer, the garden boasts 45 varieties of herbs, fruits and vegetables. During the summer months, our culinary and beverage teams incorporate these fresh ingredients throughout the food and cocktail programming.
