

GOLDEN rules

Summary of essential guidelines for supplier partners

WHAT ARE THE GOLDEN RULES?

The Golden Rules are six essential non-negotiable commitments that reinforce Suzano's values in the environmental and social areas. All our suppliers are required to adhere to these rules to ensure ethical, responsible, and sustainability-driven operations.

The 6 GOLDEN rules

Environmental

1. No illegal deforestation or misuse of fire.

It is prohibited to provide Suzano with raw materials or products originating from areas where native vegetation was removed or where fire has been used without authorization from the relevant environmental agency and without implementing the required compensation measures.

2. Activities with polluting potential require a valid license.

Any activity that may generate environmental impacts must have appropriate environmental licensing and comply with the conditions established in the license.

3. Waste must be disposed of correctly.

The transport and disposal of waste, hazardous or not, must strictly follow current environmental legislation and have the proper authorization.

Social

4. Forced labor or practices akin to slavery are unacceptable.

All forms of work involving coercion, debt bondage, or other illegal exploitation practices are prohibited, even if they occur outside the direct relationship with Suzano.

5. Child labor is prohibited by law.

It is not permitted to employ children or adolescents below the minimum legal age, nor in conditions that violate labor laws.

6. Respect for Indigenous peoples and traditional communities.

The activities must not compromise the livelihoods of Indigenous peoples, quilombolas, or other local communities. When applicable, the process of Free, Prior and Informed Consultation (FPIC) should be conducted, and land conflicts should be avoided.

Complying with these guidelines means respecting the environment, people, and Suzano's values. They are part of our commitment to a fairer, safer and more sustainable future, and you are a key part of this!
