

Tobique

Tobique is an emerging but increasingly recognised jurisdiction within First Nation territory in Canada. The jurisdiction has gained traction due to its cost-effective licensing, fast approvals and fewer barriers to launch.

Background of Tobique

Tobique's Gaming Authority (TGA) framework is independent from federal/provincial regimes and appeals to gaming companies that require a legitimate but commercially flexible licensing base.

Licence types

Online Gaming Operator Licence: For casino, sports betting, bingo, lottery, poker, or hybrid iGaming platforms.

Key Person / Corporate Approval: For executives, directors, or individuals with operational control.

Target Markets: Canada (outside provincial monopolies), LATAM, Asia, Africa and international grey markets

Best suited to: Start-ups and mid-size operators wanting low cost and speed to market, operators targeting grey or emerging markets, companies seeking a North American base without expensive provincial licensing, sportsbooks launching in LATAM or Africa, or crypto gaming operators.

Licence requirements

Operators are required to meet several legal, technical and operational requirements. These include passing basic fit & proper checks, submitting corporate documentation (shareholders, structure, agreements), adhering to AML/Responsible Gambling policies, providing a technical description of gaming systems, and submitting key person disclosures.

Key benefits

Low Cost & Fast Licensing

Renowned for its swift licensing process, license approvals are often issued within 4–8 weeks.

Flexible Global Market Reach

Ideal for operators targeting multiple international markets without restrictive compliance rules.

Hosting Flexibility

No requirement to host servers in Tobique or within Canada.

Minimum Bureaucracy

Streamlined compliance expectations compared to EU or Tier-1 jurisdictions.
