

Sahar Aqeel

sahar.aqeel26@gmail.com

Overall rating

★★★★★ 1.0

Status	Average score	Scoring method
Completed: Nov 25, 2024	52%	Percentage of correct answers

This PDF provides a comprehensive overview of your candidate's test results. It gives you a detailed insight into their scores, skills and strengths, so you can use it to easily compare the candidate with other applicants for this role.

In addition to their overall average score, you'll receive a full breakdown of their assessment, including how long they spent completing the tests, what scores they achieved, and how they performed in different areas of each test.

You can see ratings and reviews from your team members, plus the answers to any custom questions. And for your peace of mind, we indicate whether your candidate has followed the guidelines for taking the tests.

Overall rating and review

Review	Rating
--	★★★★★

Anti-cheating monitor

View webcam snapshots

Device used?	Desktop
Location	Rawalpindi (PB), PK
Filled out only once from IP address?	Yes
Webcam enabled?	Yes
Full-screen mode always active?	No
Mouse always in assessment window?	No

Extra time

No extra time was granted to this candidate

Test scores

Avg. score 52%

Scoring method: Percentage of correct answers

English C1 (Advanced)

50%

The English C1 (Advanced) test evaluates a candidate's knowledge of the English language at the C1 level of the CEFR framework. This test will help you hire employees who can participate in demanding professional and social conversations in English.

View full test description

Customer Service

70%

This Customer Service test evaluates candidates' ability to interact appropriately and determine appropriate solutions. It will help you hire experts who can enhance your CS operations by improving customer satisfaction and avoiding negative impressions.

View full test description

Problem Solving

25%

This Problem Solving test evaluates candidates' ability to define problems and analyze data and textual information to make correct decisions. This test helps you identify candidates who use analytical skills to evaluate and respond to complex situations.

View full test description

Attention to Detail (Textual)

62%

This Attention to Detail (Textual) test evaluates candidates' attention to textual detail while processing information. This test helps you identify candidates who can thoroughly and carefully handle intricate processes.

View full test description

🕒 Finished in 00:11:54 out of 00:12:00

Personality

DISC

S - Pleasantly calm and accommodating

The DISC test is based on the model developed by psychologist William Marston for behavioral assessment. It classifies how we express emotions into the four behavior types of DISC: dominance (D), influence (I), steadiness (S), and conscientiousness (C).

⇒ View full test description

🕒 Finished in 00:05:38 out of 00:10:00

S: Pleasantly calm and accommodating

Introduction to DISC

The DISC test is one of the most popular personality tests used in the workplace. This test shows how someone is likely to behave in their work environment and is therefore valuable in understanding candidates more deeply in preparation for interviews. The model uses the basic styles of Dominance (D), Influence (I), Steadiness (S), and Conscientiousness (C), which may appear alone or in combination with another style. The letters of the personality types correspond with these four styles.

S type description

Ss are loyal and reliable. They fulfill their obligations and are accommodating and peaceable. They are service-oriented, stable individuals.

In personal relationships

The S is cooperative and takes the needs of others into consideration. Ss are givers and believe their role in relationships is to listen attentively and provide for others. These individuals are easygoing and would rather follow than lead. They avoid conflict.

At work

They are calm, pleasant, and do not rock the boat. Competition does not interest them; they prefer working cooperatively as part of a team. They can be excellent in people-oriented jobs.

The S is an accommodating leader and gives the team space to resolve conflicts between contenders for leadership among themselves. Because they are willing to compromise, they are capable of getting people who do not initially want to cooperate to go along with them.

As team members, they are excellent specialists. They keep promises and focus on their responsibilities. They use common sense and are good at prioritizing.

Their best attributes

They are great listeners and patient people who can spend hours listening and encouraging a friend or a colleague. They are attentive to others' needs; at the same time, they make a point to check on themselves by asking for feedback. They are skilled at finding compromises that best serve the needs of all.

Their main challenges

Ss often underestimate their own skills and can do more than they say. S types hide their own desires and ambitions and wait for changes rather than initiate them. They consistently try to reach a consensus and will usually be able to avoid conflicts. If conflicts do arise, they will do everything in their power to resolve them quickly.

Tips for communicating and working with an S

These individuals respond best to direct questions and approaches presented with empathy. When you communicate with them:

- Use empathy and explain yourself thoughtfully to get on the same level as an S.
- Recognize their preference for in-person communication.
- Always allow time for questions regarding their personal thoughts and feelings on the matter at hand. Be aware that, as followers, they may keep their opinions to themselves.
- Communicate assertively in order to get the best out of interactions with them.

To help them achieve their potential at work:

- Ask them to participate in group projects and group dynamics. When there is a need for a motivator or someone to help build relationships, you can count on an S.
- Offer feedback frequently, but do not put them in the spotlight in front of others, as they like to keep things low-key.
- Provide a long-term perspective and give them enough time to acquire expertise and work out details.
- Encourage Ss to further leverage their strengths by developing guidelines for accomplishing tasks.

Possible coaching points:

- The S may need coaching to learn to remain calm while under pressure.
- Assertiveness is sometimes challenging for S types, especially in holding people accountable when they behave irresponsibly. Since showing responsible behavior is precisely a quality of the stabilizer, others may take advantage of it.
- Being proactive and taking initiative rather than reacting to people or events are important skills for Ss to work on. Pairing them with colleagues who bring variety to tasks can help them improve these skills.

Discussion points

Use these discussion points during the interview to gain deeper insight into the candidate, and to provide the candidate with role details that are likely to be important to them.

- In what ways does this role focus on building consensus?
- To what degree does this role require assertiveness? How does the candidate handle situations requiring assertiveness?
- To what degree are time pressures and deadlines a part of the role? What support does this role receive for handling these time pressures?

Custom questions

Essay

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

Write a concise email to a potential client, John Smith, who has been identified as the decision maker at a medium-sized staffing firm.

Your organisation offers HR evaluation software specifically for staffing companies. The goal is to send an introductory email containing a brief overview of your offerings and reasons for having a conversation.

What to look for in the answer?

Ability to write clearly and present information in a persuasive and professional manner.

Answer

Hi John,

Hope this email finds you well!

I recently came across your firm and realized that our HR evaluation software, which is specifically designed for staffing companies like yours, would be a great fit for your organization.

Do you have any availability this week so we can connect and discuss how this platform can assist you in your workflow?

Looking forward to hearing back from you!

🕒 Finished in 00:04:39 out of 00:10:00

Video

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

Talk about an instance when you dealt with an overly upset or rude prospect or client.

What to look for in the answer?

Job-fit

Answer

↗ View video answer

Video

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

How do you deal with rejection, and stay motivated while dealing with a high number of calls every day?

What to look for in the answer?

Job-fit

Answer

View video answer

Video

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

Talk about a time when you received critical or unpleasant feedback from a colleague.

What to look for in the answer?

--

Answer

View video answer

Video

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

What is one habit you are proud of? What is one habit you would like to get rid of?

What to look for in the answer?

--

Answer

View video answer

 Video

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

What is the biggest challenge you've faced at work in your career, and how did you overcome it?

What to look for in the answer?

--

Answer

↗ View video answer

 Video

☆☆☆☆☆ 0.0

As a sales consultant for an insurance firm, you are making a first-time call to a prospective client who is unfamiliar with your company.

The call has been directed to voicemail. Leave a concise message introducing your services briefly, and request a return call.

If preferred, this answer can be recorded as an audio file with your camera covered.
This question includes one or more media content. View

What to look for in the answer?

--

Answer

↗ View video answer