PREDICTION MARKETS (EVENTS) CFDs
KEY INFORMATION DOCUMENT (KID)

RISK WARNING: Prediction CFDs are complex, high-risk derivative products. You may lose all capital committed to a position. These products may not be appropriate for every client. Do not trade unless you fully understand the product, the pricing methodology, and the risks described in this document.

1. PRODUCT CLASSIFICATION AND AVAILABILITY

Prediction market or event-related contracts offered by Born2Trade LTD are structured and classified as contracts for difference ("Prediction CFDs").

Prediction CFDs are made available by Born2Trade LTD, Registration No. 2025-00375, incorporated in Saint Lucia.

Prediction CFDs are available exclusively through the Match-Trader platform provided by Born2Trade LTD.

A Prediction CFD does not provide ownership of, or any legal entitlement to, an underlying event, asset, vote, security, prize, or outcome. It is a derivative contract settled in accordance with the applicable product specifications and trading terms.

2. REVERSE SOLICITATION AND CLIENT INITIATIVE

Reverse solicitation means that the client approaches Born2Trade LTD entirely on the client's own initiative, without being prompted by targeted advertising, promotion, or direct solicitation by Born2Trade LTD.

The business relationship and request for access to Prediction CFDs must originate exclusively from the client.

If a prospective client or existing client believes that they were solicited, misled, pressured, or provided with inaccurate information by any person, they must notify the Compliance Department immediately at compliance@born2trade.com before opening or continuing any transaction.

Acceptance of this document and the applicable terms constitutes the client's confirmation that the relationship was initiated on the client's own initiative. This confirmation does not limit any rights that cannot lawfully be waived.

3. JURISDICTIONAL RESTRICTIONS

The information and products described in this KID are not intended for distribution or use in any jurisdiction where such distribution, access, or use would violate applicable law or regulatory requirements. Clients are responsible for determining whether access to and use of the services is lawful in their jurisdiction. Born2Trade LTD does not represent or warrant that Prediction CFDs are permitted, suitable, or available in every jurisdiction. Access may be restricted, suspended, or prohibited where required by law, regulation, or company policy.

4. GENERAL RISK DISCLOSURE

Trading CFDs involves a high degree of risk and may result in the loss of all funds allocated to trading. Only trade with money you can afford to lose. You should carefully consider your financial circumstances, trading experience, investment objectives, and risk tolerance. Where appropriate, obtain independent legal, tax, or financial advice before trading.

Event and outcome risk: The value of a Prediction CFD depends on the anticipated and final outcome of a specified event. Information may be incomplete, delayed, disputed, revised, or interpreted differently by market participants.

Pricing and valuation risk: Quoted prices may reflect market expectations, available liquidity, internal pricing inputs, and contract rules. Prices may move rapidly and may not correspond to any external probability estimate or independently verifiable value.

Volatility and gap risk: Unexpected announcements, event developments, or final determinations may cause abrupt price movements. Stop-loss instructions may not execute at the requested price.

Liquidity risk: Some contracts may have limited market activity. Wider spreads, reduced depth, execution delays, partial fills, or an inability to close a position may occur.

Leverage and total-loss risk: Where leverage or margin applies, relatively small market movements may produce disproportionately large losses. Positions may be closed automatically when margin requirements are not met.

Settlement and determination risk: Settlement depends on the contract specifications, designated information sources, cut-off times, cancellation rules, and the company's determination procedures. Events may be postponed, abandoned, corrected, or declared inconclusive.

Technology and operational risk: Platform outages, connectivity failures, data-feed errors, cyber incidents, or other operational disruptions may delay or prevent order placement, modification, execution, or closure.

Regulatory and legal risk: Laws, regulations, or regulatory interpretations may change. A product may be restricted or prohibited, and positions or access may be affected as a result.

Counterparty risk: A CFD is an over-the-counter contract with Born2Trade LTD. The client is exposed to the risk that the company may be unable to meet its contractual obligations.

5. CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND COMPLAINTS

Before trading, the client should read this KID together with the Terms and Conditions, product specifications, order-execution provisions, and the full Risk Disclosure. By proceeding, the client acknowledges that they understand the nature of Prediction CFDs and accept the possibility of losing all capital committed to trading. Questions or complaints should be submitted to the Compliance Department at compliance@born2trade.com.

This document is provided for risk disclosure and general information purposes only. It does not constitute investment advice, a recommendation, an offer, or a guarantee of any outcome or return.
