

*Duracell US Operations, Inc.
A Berkshire Hathaway Company
14 Research Drive
Bethel, CT 06801 USA*

Subject: California Proposition 65 Declaration

Duracell is providing this letter of declaration in response to your request to confirm Prop 65 compliance. To the best of our knowledge, Duracell consumer batteries and chargers conform to the California Proposition 65 requirements which are found at:

<https://oehha.ca.gov/proposition-65/law/proposition-65-law-and-regulations>

The current Prop 65 list contains over 900 substances. The State of California publishes the list of Prop 65 chemicals on the OEHHA web site at:

<https://oehha.ca.gov/proposition-65/proposition-65-list>

Duracell retained a 3rd party test organization to complete an assessment (i.e., review and testing) of Duracell's portfolio of products for compliance with Prop 65 and various global restricted substance requirements (i.e., EU REACH SVHC). As a result, no Prop 65 warnings are required. To ensure continuous compliance, Duracell retained the test organization to monitor Prop 65 developments and notify us of changes affecting Duracell products.

Cordially,

Laura Zadrick

Laura Zadrick
North America Product Safety & Regulatory
zadrick.lj@duracell.com

DATE: January 3, 2023