There are thousands of questions on the student forum or with paid courses. Another reason why Bionic Turtle is good for risk managers is its active community of over 40,000 members. These first two sections can be accessed freely by everyone, but the practice section is for paid subscribers. The course program is comprehensive and designed to help risk managers understand advanced forms of risks. ===== The Bionic Turtle FRM review courses offer a comprehensive learning experience for students preparing for the professional risk management certification exam. You should receive a response to your email inquiry within a few hours. They also have a blog where you'll find different posts about the FRM exam. They'll be with you every step of the way, offering support and guidance, as well as study plans that are designed to set you up for success. Founded by David Harper in 2004, the owner continues to write practice exam questions and test them on the world's most active FRM forum that Bionic Turtle has developed. The company's goal is to provide high quality materials at a reasonable price. Their study planner, study notes, instructional videos, practice questions, and student forum deliver a well-rounded package that prepares you for the FRM exam. Bionic Turtle's videos focus on the most important concepts and distill the more complex topics which makes them easier to understand. The FRM requires a high level of quantitative skills. Many concepts are hard to understand without visual demonstrations, so the videos help you comprehend the material better. Its high quality videos are colorful and well-designed. Complex concepts are explained in a straightforward and clear language, and a yellow "spotlight" that moves over words and concepts helps direct your attention to specific points. The FRM study materials include daily questions, videos, learning spreadsheets, study notes, focus review videos, quizzes, and practice question sets. You can check out the free samples of all materials on the company's website. The large practice question database contains thousands of practice questions which are continuously updated (often by founder David Harper himself). You can find thousands of questions on the forum, or you can choose the packaged Question Sets that come with the paid courses. The Bionic Turtle forum, which has been around for 10 years, includes 3 main sections: The Office, Financial Risk Manager, and FRM Practice Questions. The first two are free to everyone, but the practice questions can only be accessed by subscribers. The Office area posts announcements and daily practice questions. Financial Risk Manager includes a group of individual forums that cover basic information about FRM and more specific forum domains dedicated to individual components covered on the exam and how they are weighted. Bionic Turtle is one of the more affordable FRM prep courses. Considering the number of options and time allowed to access the program, Bionic Turtle's courses offer the best overall value out of the courses we've reviewed. Bionic Turtle is an excellent choice for those looking to prepare for the FRM exam. The platform offers access to materials for a full year, which is more than enough time if you create a study plan and stick to it. A three-month extension is also available for an additional fee. I highly recommend signing up for a Free-Trial to get a first-hand look at their study materials. The study materials are all electronic, and there is no option to buy a hard copy textbook. While this can be cumbersome, downloading and printing out resources is still an option. Some resources from the GARP curriculum are not covered in Bionic Turtle's study courses, which is intentional. The company focuses on the most important concepts and practices instead. Bionic Turtle offers an efficient and effective review course for FRM clients with some experience in the field. If you have a lot of experience, their review course may be enough. However, using additional study materials like GARP core books can provide a more comprehensive review. Students who have used Bionic Turtle's review courses rave about the materials and give credit to the company for helping them pass the FRM exams. The forum is an excellent resource with a wealth of information on the exam, study hints, practice questions, and useful strategies. The Study Notes and videos are also top-notch, helping you focus on the key concepts. Bionic Turtle's pricing varies depending on which course you choose: Basic ($249/year), Advanced ($349/year), or Professional ($449/year). Each includes access to a full forum, question sets, study notes, instructional videos, interactive quizzes, and more. With Bionic Turtle, preparing for the FRM exam is within reach.
