2024 was another exciting year for Shenandoah Valley Westminister-Canterbury. Our community continued to grow in several different ways.

SVWC was able to increase the services offered in the Clinic and Therapy departments. Transportation was enhanced with the addition of our electric GEM vehicle and the new "party" bus, which is used mostly for long-distance travel.

The Interiors Committee was very busy renovating and enhancing the common area spaces in Shenandoah and Winchester Hall, and the Commons.

As a community, we once again had the privilege of welcoming new residents who moved into Phase II of Villas. A huge thank you to the Resident Association Welcome Committee for welcoming and mentoring our new neighbors. I was pleasantly surprised by how quickly the new residents became acclimated to life at SVWC. Many are already volunteering in the community and serving on various committees.

Isn't that what building a community is all about? Creating a warm, safe, engaging environment surrounded by those who care and support one another. I love clubs and groups that have simply started from shared interests. A few examples include the Fiber Folks and Pet Pals. Every morning, I see residents walking around our lovely campus, sometimes by themselves, and sometimes with other residents. From putting green to the croquet court, the opportunities for connections are limitless.

SVWC also continues to be a solid community partner within the greater Winchester City and Frederick County. With the support of other non-profits in the area, we formed the Winchester Intergenerational Network to promote, increase, and highlight the intergenerational opportunities in this area. The plan is for this network to strengthen and continue to grow well into the future.

We sincerely hope that you will enjoy the 2024 Annual Report. It will highlight the many areas that make SVWC so special. Whether it is the weekly Coffee with Administration, the quarterly Town Halls, the Bistro Concerts, the Thursday Night Programs, Happy Hour, or ice cream on the first day of summer, we are truly a connected community.

Chair, Board of Trustees

This is my last annual report missive as the Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Looking back over what I've written in this space over the years, I noticed that I spent a lot of words talking about our journey together — where we've been, where we are, and where we are headed. That's what healthy communities do and SVWC is a healthy community. In my estimation, it has been a joyous journey to which I have been honored and privileged to be on with you. I have every confidence that it will continue to be a joyous journey. Thank you.

In this final report as the chairman, I would like to do two things. One of which, I just did. And that is to thank you. Thank you for the invitation to serve and lead. When a community like ours with a mission as important as ours asks you to serve, always say yes. I am humbled by the trust you placed in me and hopefully upheld that trust to the best of my ability and to the expectations of our community.

The second thing I would like to do is reflect with you on what I believe to be one of the more wonderful words in language — home. Home is the place we are from. It's a place we look forward to returning to when we are away. It's a place we know we will always belong.

Home is where the people and stuff we love are. Home is the smell of our favorite food wafting from the kitchen. Home is the sound of voices we know and love telling stories of happiness and as well as hurt, because life includes both. Home is an embrace. Home is the countless experiences that have contributed to the people we are. When people ask us where we are from, they ask us to tell them about our home.

Home is a word I hear so many people use when they talk about the SVWC community. "Westminster is my home." Home is the word that comes to my mind first and foremost when I think of SVWC. It's all the things I noted above. When I step onto our campus, I feel that I am home. Home, chiefly though, is the people — the residents, the staff, the volunteers on the boards and committees. They make SVWC home.

It warms my heart that SVWC is a place we can call home. It warms my heart that I had the opportunity to serve on the board over the past several years. Once again, thank you all for your part in making SVWC a place that feels like home in so many ways.

God's peace to you all.

Our Residents are Extraordinary

Volunteering for an active life of purpose by Bob Bolan

Every one of us arriving at SVWC brings decades of experience and knowledge, and years of remaining capability. How should we deploy our time and attention here? What is the best way to live fully in this community?

How can our skills benefit the community while opening new doors as we continue to grow during these years of our lives? The idea is to experience happiness and reduce stress as we pursue active and meaningful living.

Research shows that seniors who volunteer their time and talent enjoy improved wellness, longevity, and health span. At SVWC, residents have launched numerous volunteer activities that we call Bistro Concerts, croquet games, Fiber Folks, flower arranging for the dining room, gardening, Lifelong Learning, Mother Nature's Team, pool and aerobics class instruction, putting contests, Resale Shop, Water Brigade, Woodchucks, Woodworking Shop, and a host of others.

In addition, the Winchester area has a wide variety of options that welcome SVWC residents as volunteers: helping with food, shelter, reading, animals, nature, science, health, and many others. With my background in higher education, I decided to volunteer on the project to earn "Age Friendly University" certification at Shenandoah University.

Mr. Bob Bolan on the left chatting with fellow resident, Ed Sabatino

My personal passion is research and learning. I enjoy researching a variety of topics and discussing ideas with friends. What better volunteer job could I imagine for myself than developing and leading weekly lifelong learning sessions for fellow residents.

My volunteer activities may evolve as I age, but what won't change is my desire to have a happy, healthy life and live each day with purpose, connection, and joy.

New Resident Experience

New Resident Experience by Allyson Butler and Yvonne Perry

We moved into The Villas in September 2024 and couldn't be happier. We've made friends both in The Villas and throughout the community—everyone is so welcoming.

We love our apartment: the spacious bedroom, large walk-in closet, and thoughtful touches like pocket doors and double sinks. Maintenance hung our pictures, IT set up our Wi-Fi, and the on-site clinic and Physical Therapy are so convenient.

Our balcony is a favorite spot—we enjoy morning coffee, greeting neighbors, and conversations across the way. Dining is another highlight, with options from the Main Dining Room to the Bistro, Tavern, or Café—each offering delicious meals and friendly staff.

The Vitality Center is outstanding. Kelsey customized workout cards for us, and we enjoy the treadmills, pool, and classes. The InBody machine, personal training, and wellness support are all included.

Transportation makes life easier, whether riding to meals, errands, or outings like wineries and farmers' markets. It's peace of mind to know a ride is always available.

Activities are endless—Bridge, Mahjong, Bingo, croquet, lifelong learning, and Thursday programs. A favorite is Coffee with Administration, where leadership shares updates (sometimes with a CFO joke!).

In just 10 months, we've found a vibrant, walkable community with choices—Villas, cottages, or the main house—each with its own charm. Most importantly, we've found friendships to last a lifetime.

New Resident Experience by Janice Palm

Living at Shenandoah Valley Westminister Canterbury, especially in the Villas, is a truly wonderful experience. My apartment in the new Villas connects me not only to the greater Winchester area but also to the vibrant Westminister Canterbury and Villa communities.

The space itself is bright and airy, thanks to an abundance of windows and an open floor plan that makes the living area feel even more spacious. From my windows, I enjoy beautiful views—even catching glimpses of the Blue Ridge Mountains in the distance.

The modern kitchen is a dream for someone like me who enjoys baking and cooking, especially on days when I choose to stay in rather than dine on the Main Campus.

Speaking of campus, I appreciate that the size is just right—small enough to foster genuine friendships across all areas: the Villas, Main Campus, and Cottages.

One of the things I value most is community culture. Residents and staff are welcoming and kind, but also respectful of each other's privacy. It's the perfect balance that allows for a full, independent life—both within and beyond the community.

The programming is diverse and engaging, and the leadership team is forward-thinking while remaining fiscally responsible. I truly feel at home here.

Opportunities in Education for our Employees

by Abigail D'Arcangelis,

NMT-F, CDP, CDSGF

Most people connected to our community know me as the Music Therapist and Internship Director here at Westminster. What they might not know is that I am currently in graduate school, working on a Master's in Aging Studies. Early in my career as a music therapist, I realized that my heart belonged in older adult care; something I attribute, in part to witnessing my mother's career as a long-term care Registered Nurse and my grandfather thriving until his death at the age of 101.

Joining the Westminster family in 2012 to establish the music therapy program here has been a dream! Not only am I blessed to be gifted endless meaningful moments of connection through music therapy work, but I am able to engage in connection in and outside the music therapy realm and in the greater community, through opportunities such as facilitating dementia support groups and advocacy initiatives, volunteering at the Senior Center, supervising music therapy practicum students from Shenandoah University and interns from around the country, and guest lecturing at various institutions.

It is my professional desire to continue to develop my expertise and ability to be a well-rounded and informed resource to this community, as well as my personal tendency to continuously seek opportunities for growth that led me to pursue further education. What gave me great pause in seeking education were concerns about accruing debt. Like many, my husband and I have living and household expenses to manage, including raising a young child.

Receiving the Helen Abrahamsen Employee Scholarship has made it possible for my goal to turn into reality. Had I not received such generous assistance, I am not certain I would have made the decision to follow through on my desires. When I think of Helen Abrahamsen, the generosity of other contributing donors, and the board members who volunteer their time and make tough decisions regarding applications, I am overcome with gratitude. People I know, and some I've never met, choose to support and champion dreams and hard work not just of myself but of other recipients, as well; this is what makes our community so special. This scholarship provides more than financial assistance. It sends a message of the value in lifelong learning, mutual success, and excellence in care rooted in education and empowerment. By offering employees the opportunity to pursue further education and professional development, SVWC puts into action the commitment of its mission - to enrich lives, not only for residents but for team members, too, which is just one more example of how we are all connected for life.

Foundation Grants at Work

by Donielle Palmer,
Director, Resident Services

In 2024, the Shenandoah Valley Westminster Canterbury Foundation demonstrated remarkable generosity by supporting several initiatives brought forth by the Resident Services Department. Two projects that stood out and deserve special recognition are the Healthcare Wall of Valor and the Informational Hotline.

Healthcare Wall of Valor

Service to our country is a profound legacy—worthy of both recognition and reverence. While touring another senior living community during a CARF survey, I noticed a striking tribute to veterans: a wall dedicated to honoring those who served. Inspired by this idea, we set out to create something equally meaningful for our Residents.

Working closely with the Healthcare Activities Coordinator, we compiled a list of veterans in our care and reached out to their families. We envisioned something more than photos and paper; a tribute that would be timeless. That vision was realized through the creation of beautifully handcrafted wooden medallions representing each of the six branches of the U.S. military. These pieces were made by a veteran in Arizona and now serve as the centerpiece of our Wall of Valor.

Unveiled just before Veterans Day, the ceremony brought together Residents, their families, staff, and special guests. The occasion was filled with heartfelt words, music, and deep gratitude. As new veterans join our community, their photos are added to the display. When a veteran passes, their photo is returned to their family in appreciation of their service and legacy.

Informational Hotline

For years, Shenandoah Valley Westminster Canterbury (SVWC) has quietly offered guidance to individuals navigating the complexities of aging services. In 2024, thanks to Foundation support, we formalized this effort with the launch of the Informational Hotline—a toll-free phone line and dedicated email address open to the broader community.

Led by our Social Services Department, the hotline offers accessible, compassionate support to individuals seeking answers to aging-related questions. Many callers are unsure where to begin. The hotline provides not only information and resources, but also a sense of reassurance and direction during difficult transitions.

The gratitude we've received from those who use this service is profound. Sometimes, people just need someone to listen to and help them take the first step. As a trusted leader in senior care, it's a privilege for SVWC to share our knowledge and serve as a resource for others.

Thank you to the Foundation for making these impactful projects possible. Your support enables us to both honor our veterans and extend our mission of service to the wider community.

Foundation Chair

The mission of the Shenandoah Valley Westminster Canterbury (SVWC) Foundation is simple and strong: “to provide support to older adults and the people who care for them, and to fund programs and services dedicated to improving well-being.” As a designated supporting organization, the Foundation exists solely to benefit and advance the mission of SVWC. It serves as the philanthropic arm of our community, connecting generous donors with meaningful opportunities to make a lasting impact. Founded in 2015, the Foundation will proudly mark its 10th anniversary in 2025.

The past year was another standout for educational grants. The Helen Abrahamsen Scholarship Fund awarded sixteen scholarships to SVWC employees and their eligible dependents, continuing its strong legacy of educational empowerment. In addition, our newly launched Nursing Scholarship Program supported one team member in pursuing a degree that will elevate their career in nursing. These efforts reflect our ongoing commitment to fostering both personal and professional development.

At the heart of the Foundation's mission is the Fellowship Fund, which supports SVWC's enduring pledge: no residents will be asked to leave due to depleted finances through no fault of their own. This critical fund ensures dignity, stability, and peace of mind for residents who face unforeseen financial challenges.

Beyond the Fellowship Fund, the Foundation stewards 16 additional designated funds that enhance community life in specific and meaningful ways, including: Capital Improvement, Chaplaincy & Chapel, Employee Emergency, Greenhouse, Helen Abrahamsen Employee Scholarship, Library, Lynn Shearouse Cultural Arts/Horticulture/and Music Therapy, Memory Support, the Mother Nature Team, Nursing Healthcare Equipment, Nursing Scholarship, Woodworking, and the Unrestricted Foundation Fund.

We're also implementing fresh communication strategies in 2025 to expand awareness about each of these funds—and to help donors explore giving opportunities that align with their passions.

SVWC residents continue to demonstrate extraordinary generosity. As changes in tax laws and estate planning tools emerge, the Foundation will remain a trusted resource for philanthropic guidance—helping donors make impactful choices now and in the years to come.

And finally, our Board of Trustees is composed of dedicated individuals who continue to bring expertise, heart, and vision to their roles.

Thank you all for your ongoing support!

SVWC Mission

MISSION

Shenandoah Valley Westminister-Canterbury is a not-for-profit, intimate, church related continuing care retirement community that is committed to enabling residents to use their gifts fully, live their lives richly, and enjoy with dignity the years God has given them.

SVWC HISTORY

More than 35 years ago, parishioners at the Christ Episcopal Church in Winchester, Virginia, saw a need and set a goal to create a first-class retirement community. They adopted the Westminister-Canterbury model, where both the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches share sponsorship.

IN 1982 the family of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lawrence, Jr., who were members of First Presbyterian Church in Winchester, Virginia, generously donated land for our beautiful campus, which grew with subsequent purchases to 65 acres.

IN 1987 SVWC welcomed its first residents.

IN 2019 – 2020 additional acres of adjacent land was purchased, which now brings us to 87 acres. Many of the original leaders or members of their families remain active and support the mission and vision of our community to this day.

SVWC FOUNDATION MISSION

Our mission is to provide support for older adults and the people who care for them, and to fund programs and services dedicated to improving well-being. The Foundation was established in 2015 to nurture, cultivate and continue the spirit of generosity at Shenandoah Valley Westminister-Canterbury and in the greater community.

THANK YOU to Everyone who supports Shenandoah Valley Westminister Canterbury and Shenandoah Valley Westminister Canterbury Foundation. Donor information reflects the period from 1/1/2024 to 12/31/2024. Every effort has been made to ensure accuracy of the donor lists. We apologize for any errors or omissions. Please bring them to the attention of the Foundation by calling 540-665-5862.
