

Invitation: CarDia Young Researchers' Day 2026

On behalf of prof. Martin Haluzík, we cordially invite you to the CarDia Young Researchers' Day conference, taking place on Friday, October 23, 2026, starting at 8:45 AM in the IKEM Congress Hall.

Do you have interesting research results related to the scope of the National Institute CarDia? Take this opportunity to present your work as an oral presentation or poster, receive valuable feedback from experienced colleagues, and establish connections with researchers from partner institutions. Furthermore, the event committee will award financial prizes to the three best oral presentations!

Why Attend?

- Research Presentation: Opportunity to deliver an oral presentation or display a scientific poster.
- Financial Awards: Monetary prizes for the 3 best oral presentations.
- Networking: Connect with junior and senior researchers from partner academic institutions.
- Online Stream: The entire event will be held in English and broadcast live on the CarDia website.

Eligibility Criteria

Active Participation Guidelines

The event is open to Ph.D. students and early-career researchers of the CarDia National Institute within 5 years of defending their Ph.D. (preferably under 40 years of age).

Note: Time spent on maternity/parental leave or documented career breaks is excluded from the age and post-Ph.D. limits.

Sharing: If you do not meet the criteria for active participation yourself, we kindly ask you to support and encourage your junior colleagues to participate and share this invitation.

How to Apply?

1. Send a short abstract in English to: dana.hruskova@ikem.cz
2. Indicate your preferred presentation format (oral presentation or poster).
3. Abstract submission deadline: October 5, 2026 at the latest.

We look forward to meeting you!
