

I Share MLML Everywhere I Go
A Script for Sharing the Gospel in Over 180 Languages

Be friendly as you walk through your neighborhood, work, go to school, shop, eat at a restaurant, or relax in a park, etc. Ask friendly questions to get acquainted. Somewhere in your conversation share this website as stated below or in your own words:

Greet with a smile while you place the My Language My Life MLML.org card in their hands.

I want to share a website with you that has great resources in over 180 languages.

It has videos, podcasts, and e-books that are super helpful with topics like relationships, mental health, and Bible prophecies—things to help us deal with what’s going on in the world right now.

Do you or anyone in your family speak another language besides English?

If they answer, “No, just English,” say:

You will enjoy what you find in English. There are sites especially for children and sites on health topics, like how to avoid diabetes, heart disease, and cancer.

When they say: “Yes, I speak Hindi,” or “My mother speaks Vietnamese,” say:

How do you say “thank you” in your language?

That’s really special! I’m sure MLML.org has your language.

I can show you how to find your language at the website.

(Use their phone or yours to search, click, and play so they can hear their language).

May I save it to your home screen?

If possible, get acquainted with more questions like:

- Where is your family originally from?
- What do you miss about your home country?
- What do you like about being here?

Pray for them

Before we go, we would love to pray for you and your family. What can we pray for?

(Pray)

As God opens the door, find a way you can follow up.

- Thank you for your time. It would be great to keep in touch.
Here’s my contact information. May I have yours?
(Follow up with a text and later an invitation to meet again somewhere.
When appropriate you can give an invitation to learn more).
- We have a nice set of Bible studies. You can do it online, through the mail, or in person. Which would work well for you?

Further training for cross-cultural missions is available at homeforallnations.org.

MLML.org is a project of ASAP Ministries. Order more cards by calling 1-269-471-3026.