

ACvA Mentor Award

The ACvA Mentor award seeks to target individuals who during their careers demonstrate extraordinary leadership and practical help and guidance to:

- Support career development and progression in cardiovascular-related fields
- Advocate for the mentees in the cardiovascular sector
- Increase the participation, confidence and through this enhance the career sustainability of underrepresented groups in cardiovascular research.

Such commitment and extraordinary effort may be demonstrated by:

- the number and diversity of individuals mentored
- assisting mentees e.g. to present and publish their work, to find grants or other means to support their work, and to provide career guidance
- providing psychological support, encouragement, and essential strategies for life in academia and beyond
- continued interest in the individual's professional advancement.
