Paraphrased text here ===== Local time to UT is not the primary consideration; in fact, it's often the other way around. Historical examples like Illinois during the late forties and fifties demonstrate how laws can lead to confusion regarding recording CST times as CDT. The Time Zone Not Sure field offers two options: -6 for CST or -5 for CDT. For those struggling with ambiguous historical time zones, consulting relevant resources is essential. If a birth chart features 0 degrees and 00 minutes of an angle, it's crucial to note that the sign may have been rounded up; in reality, it could be 29 degrees and 59.5 (or greater) of the previous sign. When reporting unknown birth times, selecting "Time Unknown" instructs the program to exclude Ascendant and house positions, as these cannot be accurately determined without a birth time. However, if interested in knowing possible sign ranges on a particular day, enter 00:01 and 23:59 to determine this range. Moon signs can change approximately every 2-1/2 days, with the Moon often occupying two signs at once. Changes in Sun and other planets' positions are less likely but still possible; checking their ranges is advisable without a birth time. The houses on this chart are not the same as another chart from elsewhere, why? There are many different methods of calculating the house cusps (border lines). No method is more 'correct' than the other methods and the result varies slightly from one method to the next. There is no debate about the position of the planets, the planets are where they are. Houses however, are synthetic points in the sky created by astrologers and there is much debate among astrologers as to how these houses should be arranged, particularly the 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 11 & 12th house cusps. This free astrology birth chart program uses the Placidus method of calculating astrological houses which is the most popular world wide. Many American astrologers prefer the Koch house system, and there are at least 30 other systems. The house position of most planets will not vary from one house system to another, but sometimes if a planet is close to the border of a house it can change house positions from one house system to the next. In cases like this, it might be helpful to think of that planet as being 'cuspal' as far as the house is concerned and it may be that both different house interpretations have some meaning for you. That particular planet in question may also help you determine which house system works best for you personally. On the other hand, when there is a doubt, some astrologers will 'promote' that planet to the higher numbered of the two houses in question. House cusps are not listed or interpreted in the text of this free report. The lines for the house cusps are however, printed on the free birth chart wheel graphic included with your report. If you would like more detailed information about your houses, see our paid reports at Astrolabe Chartservices page. Which we religiously follow on apps and dailies. If you want to true account of your personality, your traits, your strengths and weaknesses, your life's patterns, soul intentions, most favorable times for growth & development, refer to your natal chart or birth chart.
