

By using the websites and online services of the online magazine Material Times, you agree to the following terms:

1 Content

Texts, photographs, illustrations, audio recordings, video recordings, and other materials published on the Website are protected by copyright belonging to the editorial team, its collaborators, or third parties whose works are published here.

Any use of these materials or their parts—including copying, modification, processing, incorporation into other works, reproduction, display, distribution, or making them publicly accessible—is only permitted with the prior written consent of the editorial office, unless it falls under statutory exceptions or sharing enabled through specific functions (such as social media sharing).

2 Website and Purpose of Use

The purpose of the Website is to provide readers with access to editorial texts and visual materials and to enable interaction through discussions or content sharing.

Use of the Website is permitted only in ways consistent with this purpose. In particular, it is prohibited to interfere with or disrupt the operation of the Website, to tamper with its source code, to decompile it, or otherwise exploit it technically in ways inconsistent with its intended purpose.

3 Newsletter

The newsletter is sent only to individuals who have explicitly subscribed to it and given their consent to receive it. The subscription can be cancelled at any time.

4 Third-Party Services

To improve our services, we use third-party tools that provide anonymous statistical data about user behavior. By using the Website, you consent to the processing of data in accordance with the privacy policies of these providers.

5 Discussions and Comments

In designated sections of the Website and on Material Times' social media channels, it is possible to express opinions and share feedback. Users are required to observe standards of decency and comply with the law, including refraining from spreading hate against individuals or groups.

The editorial office reserves the right to remove any inappropriate contribution.

6 Editorial Office

Texts by external contributors do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial office but rather those of the individual author. The editorial office reserves the right to change, delete, or supplement any content at any time without prior notice and is not obliged to retain archived versions of contributions.
