

We're looking for you!

Founder's Associate Internship / Working Student

Your Tasks

As a Founder's Associate at Assemblio, you work closely with the founding team and are directly involved in the further development of our processes. In a dynamic environment, you take on a key role in advancing our operations and actively contribute to optimizing our go-to-market strategy, sales processes, and business development initiatives. In doing so, you actively lay the foundation for further growth at Assemblio.

- Together with the founding team, you work hands-on on both operational and strategic projects and gain valuable experience in a dynamic and performance-oriented environment.
- Contribute to product and business development projects: you will have the opportunity to support the acquisition of strategically relevant customers and thus directly influence Assemblio's growth.
- Help transform our sales and marketing processes into efficient workflows and further optimize them through automation.
- Independently analyze market trends, competitors, and customer needs, deriving valuable input for our strategy with the goal of generating data-driven insights for growth and business development.
- Whether internal or external: actively contribute to shaping meetings and events from content preparation and organization to professional execution.

Your Impact

Instead of just watching, you actively take part: side by side with the founders, you work on building our operations to be future-proof and scalable while creating data-driven foundations for important decisions.

You will gain exciting insights into a fast-growing software startup as well as into the world of business development and innovation.

Your Skills

- You are motivated to build something new and ready to take a hands-on approach
- You are a structured, analytical and solution-oriented person who enjoys thinking outside the box
- You have already gained insights into dynamic work environments, for example in consulting, the industrial or B2B sector or in a startup environment
- You have the ability to quickly familiarize yourself with new topics
- You have business-fluent German and English skills and enjoy working on-site as part of a team

Why us

Assemblio started as an innovative spin-off from the Fraunhofer-Gesellschaft with an AI-based software that sets new standards in the manufacturing industry and positions itself as almost unrivaled in the market. After achieving a successful product-market fit, we are now in the next growth phase. You can join us right at this moment, take on responsibility, and actively contribute to writing the next success story.

Why you should consider joining us

- An inspiring work environment with a motivated, innovative team that is highly driven to scale Assemblio but also enjoys having fun (e.g. at one of our team events, game nights or trips)
- Personal responsibility and creative freedom from the very beginning in varied and challenging projects
- Take direct influence on Assemblio's growth success with room for your own ideas
- Gain direct insights into the development and scaling of a DeepTech startup from up close
