- + Our founders have advised public & private clubs on running facilities, building communities of players, recruiting and then managing coaches & management teams. Beyond supplying courts and canopies we can advise broadly on building successful padel clubs.

Padel Barn for Small Projects

Providing certainty of play & certainty of revenue

- + Padel Barn launching in Summer 2026: a modular steel portico structure for small projects of 1-3 courts, using steel sheet for the roof and castle boarded timber for the sidings
- + Designed to bridge the gap between costly polycarbonate structures and low-cost textile canopies, delivering permanent-grade playability and durability at a price point that works for smaller projects
- + Single court module is 24 x 14m which when scaled for 2 courts side-by-side expands to 24 x 28m preserving 2m corridors on all sides covering a floor area of approx 672 m²
- + Pillars with a height of 6m around the perimeter provide a maximum free height of almost 9m above the middle of the courts
- + Span: 28m twin-span frame with a central column line between the two courts. Length is 25m
- + Frame finish is shot blasted and painted Dove Grey
- + Timber castle boarding cladding to all four elevations from eaves height to 4m above FFL
- + Frame designed by structural engineer to EN 1090 EXC2
- + Roof has an anti-condensation lining to prevent drips onto court
- + Includes supply, transportation, installation of the structure & canopy components
- + The structure has a designed life in excess of 50 years and the cladding for 25 years
- + All workmanship is covered by a 12 month guarantee from practical completion, subject to correct use and maintenance by the client
- + Lead time is 6 weeks for manufacturing and 5-6 weeks of installation

Castle boarded timber | It is important that the timber cladding uses castle boarding where the joints overlap. This ensures sunlight does not shine through the boards blinding players within. There are existing barn structures being used for padel where light streams in between the boards resulting in very poor playing conditions. Padel Plus structures are always designed for the players and the operator.

Green Energy Solutions

Better for the environment, better for your ROI

Our canopy partner has been working on solar solutions for some years and can add photovoltaic units to the canopies in a number of ways. We are increasingly asked about the possibilities – it can all be done (but preferably with south facing roof pitches). Please ask us if you would like solar energy solutions built into your project.

Why choose Padel Plus

The Complete Court Solution

Quality of Product

- + Our Spanish court maker, Jubo Padel, has been active in the market across Europe for 25 years. They have built thousands of courts installing them around the world and have the resources and capacity to supply the fast-growing UK market quickly and effectively.
- + Jubo Padel was the first company in the sector to be certified according to the UNE standard in 2024. This is Europe's new benchmark for quality, safety and reliability in padel courts.
- + Steel and polycarbonate structural canopies have been engineered for the British climate with peerless quality of finish. We see the canopy as crucial to padel's success in the UK and are positioned with the best product and the resources to install them in volume.
- + Industry-leading LED lighting fixtures from ProSportLED.
- + Integrated ground works capability meaning we truly deliver a complete court solution.
- + Numerous thoughtful extras including courtside furniture, interior design for social spaces and changing rooms, and full installation of everything we offer.

Level of Service

- + With an office in the UK to serve our customers and one in Spain through which we maintain close ties to our manufacturing facilities, we aim to provide exceptional service.
- + Many of the smaller companies serving the UK market, both British companies relying on Spanish suppliers, or Spanish companies trying to enter the UK, struggle with the language barrier and customer service. Padel Plus is native in England and in Spain, meaning nothing gets lost in translation.

Strength of Management Team

- + Specialist knowledge of the sports market.
- + With former professional sportsmen at board level, our products are considered from the athlete's point of view, not just the technical teams who develop them. This approach has enabled particular innovation in court lighting where a combination of the player's needs and the LED manufacturer's knowledge, results in a greatly improved on-court experience.
- + We have 20 years' experience running some of the most prestigious private sports facilities and therefore understand the process of how a club commissions new courts and infrastructure. Our founders have also advised public & private clubs on running facilities, building communities of players, recruiting and managing coaches & management teams.
