BETTY & FRANCK, S/V Summertime

« We have always been sailing, Betty and I. Summertime will be our 9th boat. I always kept the tiny hope of convincing Betty to sail to the north. To my great surprise, she signed up to this project without hesitation. The proposed route is captivating and so unusual... The discovery of the Azores archipelago will certainly be a very strong moment. The idea of crossing Scotland and the Highlands by "mate" boat makes us dream. We just discovered the existence of the Caledonian canal: this route is only 80 miles long, but the alternation between locks and Lochs through this historic landmark, go by boat to the foot of Ben Nevis and finish by looking for Nessie in the Loch Ness..... this will undoubtedly remain a highlight of our journey. »

The varied and sometimes sporty navigation in these seas and ocean is interesting, such as the discovery of canals, the huge diversity of coasts, marinas, and anchorages. To be honest, the opportunity to sail in the North Atlantic, the North Sea, Baltic Sea and the English Channel immediately seduced me. Experiencing part of the summer in Scandinavia and Baltic Sea already makes me dream... »

OFFICIAL STOPS

Meeting points throughout the route. These stops allow us to bring together the fleet for briefings and social events (visits, activities, meals) that are organized by the odyssey. Registration in the odyssey includes these activities and two nights at the marina.

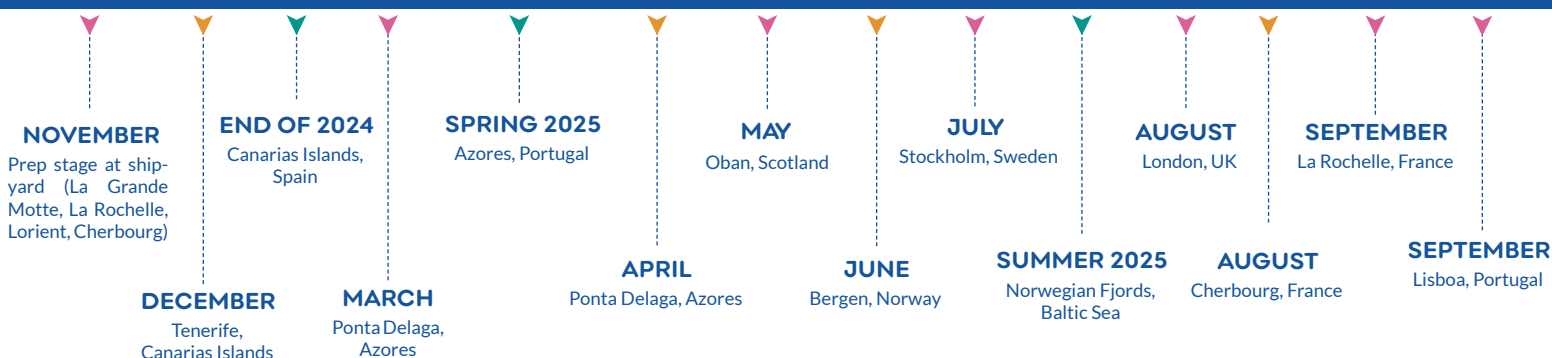

TECHNICAL STOPS

Sailing long distances for several months requires rigorous maintenance of your sailing vessel. Our team organizes technical stops to coordinate the work to be carried out by the after-sales teams, by Grand Large Services or by local partners.

FREE CRUISING

At the heart of cruising is freedom! Going wherever the wind blows and meeting people you would have never met. Between technical stops, participating boats can choose to sail their own course at their own pace or with other boats of the fleet. The adventure is yours!
