FOUNDERS' UPDATE

When BlockchainGamer.biz released their annual ranking of the top 50 blockchain game companies, we were incredibly proud to see YGG sitting right up top at #3. Having jumped up from #15 in 2025, this huge rise positioned us alongside Nexpace and WeMade, who secured first and second place respectively, and among other friends in the top 10, including CCP Games, Animoca Brands, Sky Mavis, KGeN, and Mythical Games.

This level of recognition is remarkable, representing a 12-spot rise over the past year. It's an especially significant achievement considering we had yet to make the list in 2024.

BlockchainGamer.biz has been a leading industry authority since 2018. Its founder, Jon Jordan, has followed YGG since its inception and witnessed its evolution from a grassroots movement in the Philippines into a global network of gamers and degens, and now, a premier community-led game publisher.

The new ranking validates our progress over the last five years and our demonstrably successful shift to YGG Play, which brings together five years of learnings and insights into a single platform for community distribution, discovery, and monetization.

"Perpetual onchain evolution" was the central theme and title of Gabby's recent talk at Consensus Hong Kong, where he unpacked how YGG has navigated that journey from the heights of the 2021 bull run to the current era that's focused on the kind of sustainable growth that can only come from real revenue and true retention.

We also hosted the YGG Play Grand Slam side event in Hong Kong with Abstract, featuring an exclusive merch drop for attendees that included GIGACHADBAT caps and gold-plated $CHAD bling necklaces. But the really big haul was our limited edition Waifu Sweeper tee, a collaboration with Dream Temple unveiled at LANDMARK's luxury hub as part of the Hypebeast 20th anniversary exhibition. The Waifu Sweeper tee was also featured on Hypebeast, debuting the Casual Degen aesthetic to their 8 million monthly readers.

On the other side of the world, the WolvesCo team represented us at the Game Developers Conference in San Francisco, running a tournament featuring Waifu Sweeper and blindfolded rounds of GIGACHADBAT. The recording is available on OpenSea's X account for anyone who missed it.

As always, we are grateful to our partners and community for sticking with us through this market. Stay tuned, because we have a full pipeline of new titles lined up for the rest of the year.

#TogetherWePlay,

Gabby, Beryl, and Owl

PRODUCT UPDATE

Since its launch in October 2025, the YGG Play Launchpad has undergone steady evolution to better serve Casual Degen players. A standout update in Q1 2026 was the introduction of the Boost feature, enabling players to spend their points for temporary strategic advantages.

Boosts are designed to help users secure larger token allocations or maximize their rewards from active questing. There are currently two types of boosts, available in 5%, 10%, and 20% tiers.

- Token Launch Boosts enable players to increase their allocation for specific game token launches on the YGG Play Launchpad. This boost raises the effective value of players' pledged points during allocation calculations.
- Questing Boosts allow players to activate a temporary increase in points earned from eligible quests. It is a high-value tool for users looking to accelerate their progress.

Boosts feature on the YGG Play Launchpad

Redeem page on the YGG Play Launchpad

The YGG Play Launchpad now features a Player Profile Page that displays a player's username, wallet tag, and avatar. It also includes a dashboard for key stats such as total available points, completed quests, and current $YGG staked with visible prestige tiers. For better transparency, a 30-day activity log now tracks all "credits" from quests, staking rewards, and token distributions, as well as "debits" from token launches and boosts.

Other updates to the Launchpad include a newly integrated Redeem function, allowing players to convert their points from titles like GIGACHADBAT and Waifu Sweeper directly into $YGG. Additionally, a FAQ section with explainer videos from pro player spamandrice is now accessible via the left-hand menu.

Development is ongoing for in-house AI tools handling YGG Play data, which will enable the team to push out launches faster and make more informed decisions on liveops, marketing, and tech.

$SCHAD Token Launch

GIGACHADBAT launched its $SCHAD token after a play-to-airdrop season that ran from January 21 to February 3. The token launch saw significant community engagement, with the maximum allocation increased from 1% to 2%.

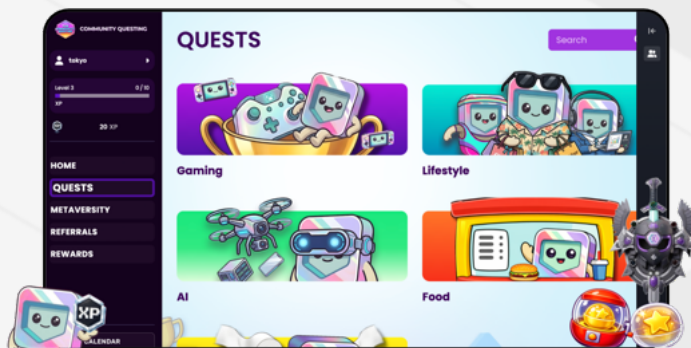

On February 13, the token went live with staking. The launch achieved 182.72% of its target, with 1,624,149.04 $YGG contributed against a required threshold of 888,890 tokens. On February 25, $SCHAD went live on OpenSea, with the announcement reaching over 25,300 views on X.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

YGG has streamlined the operational structure of its Community Programs to better serve the community and its partners. Key updates include:

- Specialized Operational Support: To ensure a more cohesive experience, YGG Pilipinas, YGG's guild partner in the Philippines, has taken the lead on all Community Questing operations. This specialized focus covers game and project quests, guild campaigns, online events, and community programs, allowing for more integrated and efficient execution.
- Campaign Milestones: Q1 saw the successful completion of several campaigns with partners including Wild Forest, Don't Die, Gunnies, Starvara, Loaded Lions, Playout, Joy, and Tollan Universe. These initiatives effectively onboarded over 15,000 unique questers, demonstrating the continued reach and engagement of the YGG platform.
- Program Evolution: Future of Work initiatives are being scaled through the Metaversity program, ensuring long-term sustainability and impact. The Game Testers Program and Creator Program are currently being refined and set to return with a broader mandate that expands beyond Web3 gaming to include a more diverse range of quest campaigns and other opportunities for the community.
- Continued Engagement: Community-favorite events remain a cornerstone of the ecosystem's activity, with Global Hangouts, Taco Tuesday game nights, YGG Fiesta, Together We Learn, and YGG Versus continuing to provide regular touchpoints for the global community.

No.3 in BCG.biz Top 50

YGG secured the #3 spot in BlockchainGamer.biz's prestigious "Top 50 Blockchain Game Companies of 2026," marking a monumental ascent from #15 in 2025.

This +12 jump is exceptionally rare for the industry's premier rankings, placing YGG directly behind leaders Nexpace and WeMade, alongside CCP Games, Animoca Brands, Mythical Games, Sky Mavis, KGen, Dacoco, and Hytopia in the top 10.

This achievement signals a definitive shift in industry perception, validating YGG's successful transition from its "guild era" roots into a powerhouse for Web3 publishing and distribution. Led by industry veteran Jon Jordan, BlockchainGamer.biz has been a trusted voice since 2018, lending significant weight to this recognition.

PUBLISHING

The first quarter of the year marked continued growth and expanded visibility for YGG’s publishing arm. Game assets from YGG Play were integrated into Abstract Visuals, a repository on Abstract that provides content creators with easier access to official branding assets, streamlining the creation of community-led content.

Waifu Sweeper partnered with lifestyle brand Dream Temple to produce a limited-edition T-shirt inspired by the game. The collaboration gained significant mainstream attention after being featured at the 20th Anniversary exhibition of the style titan Hypebeast.

YGG maintained a high profile at major industry events through speaking engagements and curated side events. Co-founder Gabby Dizon represented YGG on the main stage of Consensus Hong Kong, joining a panel with Renz Chong of Sovrun, Kun Gao of Forge, and moderator Mike Hayter of Funjible Games.

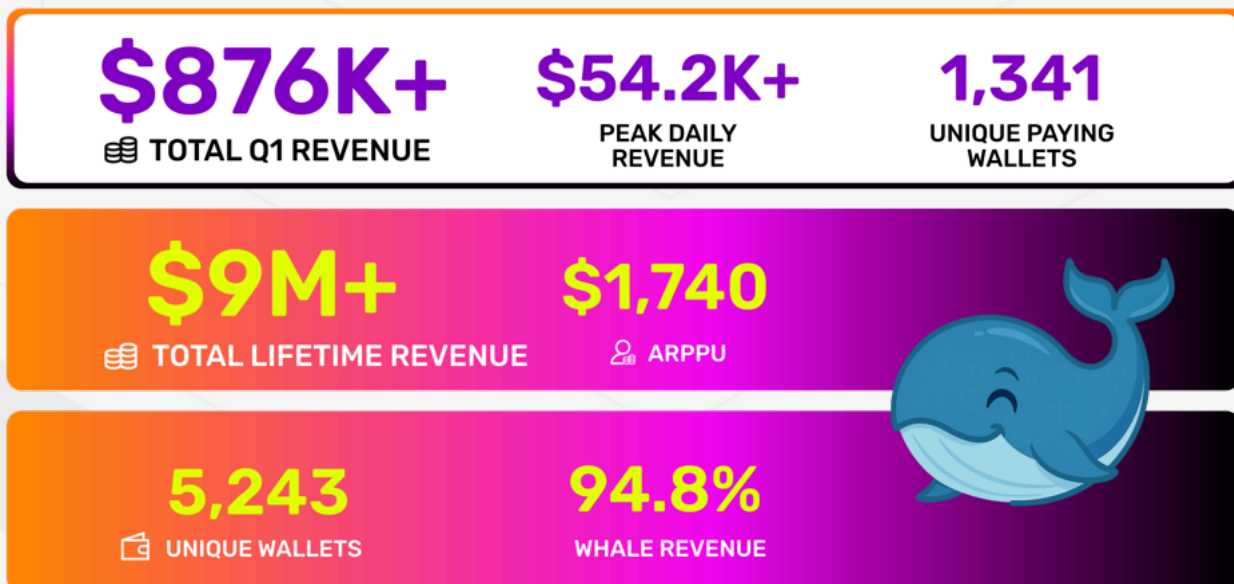

YGG Play also hosted the YGG Grand Slam side event, which coincided with the Hypebeast exhibition, and featured a panel discussion with Gabby, Abstract’s OxMeow and Brian Hong, about the infrastructure needed for building and delivering ultra fast-paced games. At the Game Developers Conference (GDC), YGG Play collaborated with WolvesCo and OpenSea to host the first tournament for GIGACHADBAT and Waifu Sweeper.

To keep the community regularly informed, YGG Play introduced YGG Play Snapshots. This new weekly ecosystem update, hosted by spamandrice, provides insights and news for the Casual Degen audience.

YGG Play also collaborated with the AI-native game creation platform Verse8 to launch a dedicated $5,000 Casual Degen track at BuidlHack 2026, to be held during Korea BUIDL Week in April. The hackathon focuses on vibe coding Casual Degen games on Verse8, with 30 teams already signing up by the end of March to compete for cash prizes, platform credits, and the opportunity to be published by YGG Play and gain access to Verse8’s investment network.

YGG Play Results

The figures below are based on usage from January to March 2026, with the exception of total lifetime revenue, which is from the launch of YGG Play in May 2025 to the present. The financial figures are accurate as of March 31, 2026.

LOL Land

LOL Land has maintained its momentum, generating $563,599 in Q1 and $8,588,000 in lifetime revenue, with $2,070 lifetime ARPPU and 55,871 monthly active users. The game also earned a highlight from the crypto gaming data aggregator PlayToEarn, which named LOL Land one of its top 5 board game recommendations.

A key update was the launch of Point Strike, a competition where participants guess a hidden number between 0 and 1,000,000 for a chance to redeem 100,000 Premium Points.

New expansions were also added to LOL Land, including the candy-inspired Sugar Valley, and further cross-IP collaborations such as Honey vs. Bearish featuring Bearish, World of Waifu featuring Waifu Sweeper, and Roach Race featuring Roach Racing Club. The YGG Play Launchpad released new quests for Roach Race and World of Waifu, offering players the opportunity to earn additional rewards.

GIGACHADBAT

GIGACHADBAT's native game token, $CHAD, launched on February 13 along with staking. The token launch was celebrated at the YGG Grand Slam side event during Consensus Hong Kong, with guests from Abstract, including Head of APAC Brian Hong and Greater China Growth Lead OxMeow. The game token was later listed on OpenSea, with the announcement attracting over 25,300 views on X.

Since launching on Abstract in September 2025, YGG Play's Casual Degen baseball hit has generated $487,999, with players spending an average of 27.26 minutes per session. In Q1, the game surpassed $290,800 in revenue, a 68% increase from Q4 2025.

GIGACHADBAT rolled out its CHAD Pass feature, which gives CHAD Pass holders 100 pballs and bats daily for 30 days. Characters from Bearish AF and Waifu Sweeper were also featured in GIGACHADBAT as bosses in separate CHAD Raids.

Community competitions for GIGACHADBAT and other YGG Play games took place in Q1. GIGACHADBAT was featured on Abstract Asia's Play to Win podcast, which featured YGG co-founder Gabby Dizon. The episode highlighted a friendly competition in which Munchies, representing YGG, defeated Abstract Korea Game Guild's coinwithpanda.

WolvesCo also hosted a GIGACHADBAT Battle Royale between Iceyyy, Doug Hype, Marcello, and Dub, and later co-organized a tournament for GIGACHADBAT and Waifu Sweeper during the Game Developers Conference (GDC) in San Francisco.

Waifu Sweeper

Raitomira's Minesweeper-inspired Waifu Sweeper officially launched on January 30, with dedicated quests going live at the same time on the YGG Play Launchpad. The game was released on the Abstract Portal in February. Since its release, Waifu Sweeper has seen a 20.1% 7-day retention rate.

Waifu Sweeper collaborated with lifestyle brand Dream Temple on a limited-edition T-shirt featured at Hypebeast's 20th Anniversary exhibition in Hong Kong. The collaboration merged Casual Degen gaming with contemporary streetwear, gaining visibility through a dedicated Hypebeast feature and a street-style promotional video with Abstract's OxMeow and content creator Yuki Rabbit modeling the T-shirt through the streets of Central.

Waifu Sweeper introduced new game features in Q1, including more Energy purchasing options and cheaper NFT gachas. To sustain the competitive interest seen as early as its pre-launch phase, the game released weekly leaderboards with different multipliers, Rush and Slayer game modes, and leaderboard opt-in.

Subsequent tournaments included collaborations with Abstract China GG and Abstract Korea Game Guild, won by @cnmqt123 and @Dongduru1, respectively. OpenSea also livestreamed a tournament by WolvesCo in collaboration with YGG Play at the sidelines of GDC in San Francisco.

Third Party Publishing Partners

YGG Play provides a publishing engine for third-party partners to scale within the Casual Degen category. By utilizing YGG's coordination layer, partners access a network for community distribution, while the YGG Play Launchpad drives game discovery. A smart contract-enforceable revenue-sharing model ensures transparent monetization, allowing developers to focus on building engaging player experiences.

Even established Web3 success stories like Gigaverse and Proof of Play chose to integrate with YGG Play, recognizing the platform as a direct conduit to the world's most active, loyal, engaged, and degenerate player communities.

FINANCIAL UPDATE

Treasury Overview

As of March 31, 2026, Yield Guild’s treasury stood at US$20.6 million, with over US$6.2 million held in stablecoins, T-bills, and large-cap tokens including ETH, BTC, and SOL.

The total value of token buybacks to date remains at 24.1 million $YGG tokens, representing 3.84% of the circulating supply.

On January 15, 2026, 25 million $YGG tokens were bridged from YGG’s primary treasury wallet to the YGG Treasury on Abstract.

YGG remains well-positioned for 2026 thanks to the ongoing revenue (in ETH and USD) from the YGG Play portfolio of games, led by LOL Land and GIGACHADBAT.

At current rates, without factoring in any new revenue from YGG Play, YGG has sufficient runway to maintain operations well into 2027.
