Medicinal Uses

Bhringaraj, is an herb studied for its multiple benefits. This plant has been highly valued to care for hair as it promotes hair growth, reduces hair fall, and postpones graying. By nourishing hair follicles, strengthening roots, and improving scalp health, Bhringaraj helps fight dandruff and dryness. Besides taking care of hair, this herb supports liver function, helps in conditions such as jaundice and hepatitis, and is good for the skin because of its anti-inflammatory and rejuvenating properties. In addition, Bhringraj can be used to reduce stress and help get a good night's sleep.
