

Product Details

Noni Phal

Noni Phal (Morinda citrifolia), commonly called Indian Mulberry, is a small evergreen tree of the Rubiaceae family, native to Southeast Asia and now cultivated in many tropical regions. The plant grows up to 3-10 meters in height with large, glossy green leaves and white tubular flowers. Its fruit, known as Noni, is oval, greenish-yellow when ripe, and has a distinct pungent smell. Despite its strong odor, the fruit is highly valued for its nutritional and therapeutic properties and has been used in traditional medicine for centuries.
