

Bryan Gile

KEYNOTE SPEAKER · EIGHT-TIME WORLD RECORD SKYDIVER · AUTHOR

"I help businesses take the risks that drive progress — and survive the ones they don't see coming."

ABOUT BRYAN

Bryan Gile is a keynote speaker, Eight-Time skydiving world record holder, and five-star author of Be Great Be Happy. With more than 12,000 career jumps, he knows what it takes to make high-stakes decisions under real pressure — and he gives audiences a repeatable, neuroscience-backed method for doing the same in business.

At the center of Bryan's keynotes is the gap between knowing the right move and actually making it. His Positive Immediate Action™ framework — Recognize, Transform, Act — closes that gap, moving rooms from hesitation to decisive action: the expansion, the hire, the risks the market hands them. And it doesn't stop at work — the same method helps people act on what matters in their own lives, so they show up energized and ready to make a difference.

His talks blend humor, dynamic storytelling, and breathtaking footage with practical, brain-based takeaways. Meeting planners choose Bryan for his rare ability to engage a room, move it, and equip it.

SIGNATURE KEYNOTES

Calculated

How to act on the risks that drive progress, and survive the ones you don't see coming.

For rooms weighing a decision they keep circling. A repeatable way to tell a finished calculation from analysis paralysis — and act on the risks they choose and the ones the market hands them.

Achieving the Impossible

The engaging, high-energy opener that reignites your people and reconnects them to what's possible.

An uplifting opener for teams doing demanding work — the method behind staying in it when the work is hard, and how leaders keep their people believing, resilient, and engaged.

The Brief

How to build a team that executes without you in the room.

A leadership-track talk from the world of 200-way skydiving: why most execution failures are briefing failures, and how to build teams that move on the vision without being walked through it.
