HOUSTON

A Service of Worship for the Fourth Sunday of Advent
21 December 2025

“Beneath the Slow Stars - Approaching Solstice” by Jennifer Pratt-Walter

There in the uncandled night something infinitesimal blinked and stretched.

She had a name but no one knew yet,
she was all potential, her newness was alive.
The moon kept her silence, all the stars held their steady slowness above.
There in the deep sack of night, a tiny Hope was born. She carried her sisters called Peace, called Joy, called Love along every byway and stream, through every dwelling of every land, across every belief and across those with no beliefs at all. Remember today, my Beloveds, how out of smallness comes the vast work, the staggering miracle of life itself. Awaken your candle out of night's silence, then as you tend it in your heart, watch it blossom to that fiery beacon from which Hope arises, whether that hope is a child or a solstice, a feeling or thought or something undefined, yet no less holy for want of a name.

This is what I wish to place upon us all: that beneath the stillness of the patient stars, we find ourselves at home with Hope and all her sacred sisters.

Preparing for worship with silence

Gathering in love

Love be with you!
And also with you!

Ring in the hour

Silence is kept

*Prelude

Donald Neuen
(b. 1933)

“The Joy of Mary”
*My soul doth magnify the Lord,
And my spirit doth rejoice in God my Savior.
For God that is mighty hath done great things
And Holy is God’s Name.*

Choir and congregation together:
(Read twice - second time getting softer and softer)
God’s mercy is on them that love God,
From generation to generation.
Blessed be the Lord God of Israel,
For God hath visited and redeemed the people.

My soul doth magnify the Lord...

Call to Worship

+Opening Hymn #12

Besançon

“People, Look East”
People, look east. The time is near
Of the crowning of the year.
Make your house fair as you are able,
Trim the hearth and set the table.
People, look east and sing today:
Love the guest is on the way.

**Please hold silence and remain seated during the prelude*

+Please stand in body or spirit

Furrows, be glad. Though earth is bare,
One more seed is planted there:
Give up your strength the seed to nourish,
That in course the flower may flourish.
People, look east and sing today:
Love the rose is on the way.

Birds, though you long have ceased to build,
Guard the nest that must be filled.
Even the hour when wings are frozen
God for fledging time has chosen.
People, look east and sing today:
Love the bird is on the way.

Stars, keep the watch. When night is dim
One more light the bowl shall brim,
Shining beyond the frosty weather,
Bright as sun and moon together.
People look east and sing today:
Love the star is on the way.

Angels, announce with shouts of mirth
Christ who brings new life to earth.
Set every peak and valley humming
With the word, the Lord is coming.
People, look east and sing today;
Love the Lord is on the way.

Time for Children

+ Response:

Moon Beams

Love is a flame that burns in our heart.

Jesus has come and will never depart.

When God is a child there's joy in our song.

The last shall be first and the weak shall be strong,
and none shall be afraid.

Call to Confession

Silent Confession

Unison Confession

Advent means we are waiting for something, we are to expect something good and up-lifting to make us feel better.

And why not?

We struggle so,
and we only want peace, security and even a little happiness.

We dream of it—like a lost treasure in an empty desert.

Then, in the very dying of the Autumn Season, along comes Advent with candles, prayers, songs and promises of new possibilities.

And, all tingling with excitement and expectancy, we are seduced into hoping once again.

Oh—thank God for Advent—and its perennial promise—pointing to a light which never dies.

Words of Assurance

+Please stand in body or spirit

“Magnificat”

I.

*Magnificat, Magnificat. My soul doth magnify the Lord!
 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Savior.
 For God hath regarded the low estate of this handmaiden.
 For behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.*

II.

*For God that is mighty hath done to me great things:
 And holy is God's name.
 And God's mercy is on them that fear God from generation to generation.
 God hath shown strength with the arm;
 and hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.*

III.

*God hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.
 God hath filled the hungry with good things and the rich hath been sent empty away.
 God hath holpen the servant Israel, in remembrance of mercy;
 As God spake to our forebears, to Abraham, and to his seed forever.
 Glory to the Creator and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;
 As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be,
 world without end. Amen!*

+Prayer of Dedication

Into this world Christ comes and proclaims a different peace:
the pax Christi.

He proclaims liberation for the poor and a different Spirit.

It is no longer the spirit of mourning and weariness, of divine resignation –

“as it was, so it will always be”

— but a new and different Spirit:

“Where the Spirit of God is there is freedom!”

The oldest Christians prayed for this Spirit.

It defined their lives;

it determined their association with one another and with the realities of existence.

Like us they often lived dull, dispirited, indifferent, mundane lives and they prayed for a Spirit to strengthen them.

“Come Holy Spirit, abide with us!”

+Doxology

we are ill-prepared to acknowledge your presence

among the lowly and the poor.

We believe you are profound, but we overlook your obvious truths.

We are anxious about the unknown but we hardly consider the realities immediately in front of us.

Turn us, incarnate God, by the simple wonders of your love, to a rebirth of faith and hope and joy. Amen.

About Today's Service

Rory Cooney, the composer of "Canticle of the Turning," writes:

"In setting [the Magnificat] for my [congregation], I decided that I wanted to use music that suggested the revolutionary spirit of the canticle, that cosmic tables are being turned over, as it were. The idea of 'turning' in the title was both a nod to the inner conceit of 'revolution,' (derived from the Latin volvere, which means 'to turn') and to the message of Jesus's preaching in all three of the synoptic gospels, the core message of which was, 'Repent, and believe the good news.' 'Repent' translates a Greek verb, the noun form of which is metanoia, that is to say, a complete change of the self, of mind and heart, which might also be rendered as 'turn around.' [...] The "revolution" is both interior (a change of heart-self) and corporate and visible (a new way of living together). It is, in fact, against the prevailing set of values in society, a revolution. But I want to emphasize that it is a peaceful revolution, a revolution of action, persuasion, and justice. In the spirit of Miriam of Egypt, Hannah, and Miriam of Nazareth, 'Canticle of the Turning' invites us to sing around the fire in the darkness while we await the new world's dawn."

This hymn makes me cry. I'm thankful to be a part of introducing it to Covenant.
