What you told us about feeling safe and cared for

54 reasons
CHILDREN'S REPORT

1 It's important to have grown-ups who you like and trust.

2 Cuddles and hugs can make you feel safe, and show you that grown-ups care.

3 When grown-ups make time to do things you enjoy together, like playing or going to the park, you feel like they care about you.

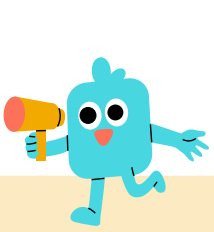

4 You feel good when grown-ups do things for you (like making you yummy food!) but you like it best when they do things with you (like learning how to fish!)

5 Grown-ups show they are listening when they do things you like with you. When they listen to you, it makes you feel safe.

What we are doing about what you told us

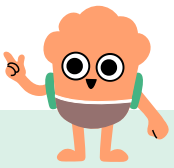

We're telling grown-ups what you like

We're helping grown-ups understand what you need

We're learning how to help you better

We're making sure people listen to you

Parents and caregivers: Everything we shared here comes from the consultation report 'In Our Best Interests': Children's views on what matters most. November 2025.
For more information, email us: practice@54reasons.org.au

54reasons.org.au