Dear Leader,

Welcome to the 2026 Global Leadership Summit. We are so glad you're here.

Influence isn't reserved for a few. It isn't limited by title, platform or position. Everyone has influence.

That includes you.

Over the next two days, you'll hear ideas that challenge you and stories that remind you why your influence matters.

Listen well, reflect deeply and get ready to step forward — into the purpose you were made for.

Megan
Katerjian

CEO, Door of Hope,
Pasadena, CA

When the Pasadena wildfires broke out, Megan Katerjian was working to keep homeless families safe at Door of Hope. She didn't yet know the fires had taken her own home.

The moment Megan heard from a neighbor that their whole neighborhood had been destroyed, she knew that being a leader meant stepping back and letting her team lead.

"I'm proud... because when I had to let go, they were ready."

Is there a place in your life you need to step back and let others lead? What would letting go require from you?

SHARE YOUR SUMMIT STORY!

Your story matters — not just to you, but to leaders around the world who are still searching for theirs.

The Global Leadership Summit meets us right where we are:

- A stay-at-home parent who discovers they've been leading all along.
- A manager who finds the courage to step back and let others lead.
- A community leader who realizes the change they've been waiting for starts with them.

That's the kind of story we want to hear from you.

How has the Summit shaped the way you lead?

Your experience could be exactly what another leader needs to hear to take their next step.

GRANDER VISION

*Troy
Murphy*

Lead Vision and Teaching Pastor,
Green Bay Community Church,
Wisconsin

When Troy Murphy first invited his entire staff to the Summit, three people showed up. But the event had unlocked something in him. He kept going back, then signed the church up as a partner site. Each year he set out more chairs, hoping they would be filled.

Then one year, a local superintendent brought 100 of his staff to Troy's site. Teachers had first changed Troy's life. Now, because of an invitation he'd refused to stop extending, educators from across the school district were sitting in seats he'd been praying would be filled.

*"The Summit has been the fastest,
most expansive way for me to use
my influence for good."*

Who in your life is waiting for an invitation
you haven't extended yet?

Create a culture where leaders grow.

Leaders don't drift into growth.
They choose it — every day.

GRANDER VISION

Julius Msheliza

Senior Pastor,
Foursquare Gospel Church,
Asokoro, Nigeria

For over 16 years, Rev. Julius and his community in northern Nigeria have endured Islamic insurgency — churches destroyed, families torn apart and more than 2 million displaced.

When he attended the Summit in Chicago, he came with one question: How do you lead when everything feels like too much? His church became a partner site the following year, and his passion for leadership proved contagious. Today, multiple GLS sites are active across Nigeria, each filled with leaders who choose courage one day at a time.

*"I don't have to solve the whole problem.
I need to start with one person."*

Where in your life does leadership feel impossible?
How can you take it one day, one person, at a time?

BE THE REASON A LEADER GETS A SEAT

*Somewhere in the world,
someone is ready.*

They don't yet know that the very thing that could change the trajectory of their life — their organization,
their community, maybe even their country —
is leadership.

Say to that leader:

*You are not forgotten.
I believe your leadership matters.
There is a seat for you.*

Your gift makes that seat possible.

Leadership Knows No Borders

The Global Leadership Summit exists to equip leaders everywhere, not just those in the U.S. Each year, immediately following the Summit, content is translated and delivered so leaders worldwide can be inspired and equipped — no matter their context, language or circumstance.

Thanks to our supporters and international partners, GLS25 was experienced...

In 98 countries
In 41 languages
By 185,279 leaders
worldwide

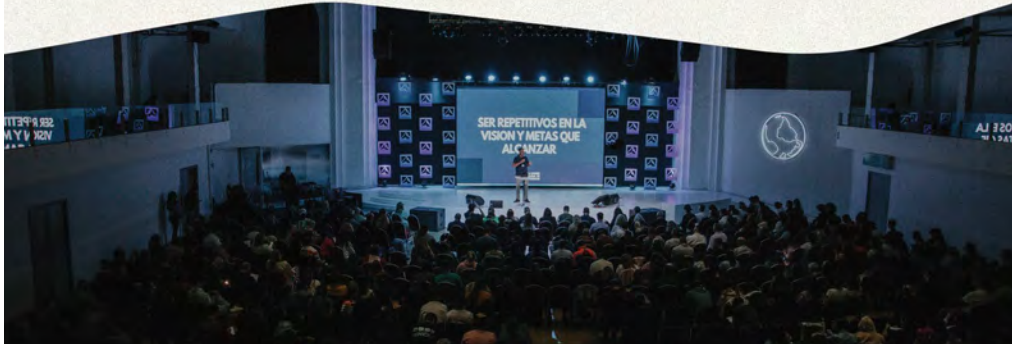

"[The Summit] was nothing short of transformational from the moment it began. I will lead with increased intentionality and consistency."

Carmen, South Africa

Your gift sends the Summit around the world. Leaders in places with few resources and little access are being transformed, and you can be the reason.

In 2025 alone, GLS Next Gen reached...

82,845 students

322 sites

61 countries

"I used to struggle with self-confidence. I was always trying to prove I was a good leader. But what really matters is doing things for God and glorifying him."

Vitor, Age 22, Brazil

Your partnership can turn potential into purpose.

Together, we are helping young people around the world discover their gifts, faith and capacity to lead.

EMPOWER LEADERS FOR THE NEXT GENERATION

Transformation Happens Everywhere

Since 2014, the Global Leadership Summit has expanded into prisons. What started as a few sites has grown into a movement — because we believe every person deserves the opportunity to learn, grow and lead.

In 2025, the Global Leadership Summit in Prisons reached...

169 prisons

22,191 incarcerated persons

3 countries

"[The Summit reminded me that] who you are, your skills, your tools and life experiences can shine no matter your location."

Michael, Cross City
Correctional Institute,
Florida

Your partnership helps bring world-class leadership to those who have too often been overlooked.

Every person has the potential to lead — help us make sure they have the chance.
