

PLYRS CRCL | Agent Code of Conduct

All licensed agents on the PLYRS CRCL platform must uphold the highest standards of trust, discretion, and ethical conduct.

This Code of Conduct is a mandatory part of your onboarding agreement. Breaches may result in immediate removal and legal enforcement.

1. Licensing & Integrity

- You must hold a valid license or registration with FIFA, The FA, or another recognised football governing body.
 - You must disclose any disciplinary history, prior bans, or ongoing investigations.
 - All information you present on your profile or in communication must be truthful, up to date, and verifiable.

2. Non-Circumvention Clause

- You agree not to bypass, circumvent, or undermine PLYRS CRCL in any way when interacting with players or service providers found through the platform.
 - All introductions, communications, or transactions that begin on PLYRS CRCL must be reported and processed through the platform.
 - Any attempt to take business “off-platform” — including encouraging others to do so — is a violation of this agreement and may trigger financial penalties or legal claims.

3. Confidentiality & Player Respect

- You must treat all information shared by players, their families, or representatives as strictly confidential.
 - You are not allowed to cold-contact or pitch to players unless the player initiates the interaction or consents through Elite Concierge.
 - You may not use, store, or share player data outside of the platform under any circumstances.

4. Professional Conduct & Communication

- All communication must be respectful, professional, and non-intrusive.

- Aggressive sales tactics, persistent follow-ups without response, or misleading claims are grounds for removal.
 - You are representing your profession and the integrity of the platform — any conduct that diminishes trust will result in immediate review.

5. Platform Trust & Reporting Obligations

- You are expected to report any misconduct or breaches you observe by other users (players, providers, or agents).
 - PLYRS CRCL is built on trust, safety, and exclusivity. Any compromise of that standard will be dealt with seriously.
 - You agree to uphold this code not just in letter but in spirit.

By proceeding with onboarding, you confirm that:
