UNION VILLA LONG-TERM CARE

Join us in enhancing the experience of aging and helping our residents age well and live better.

ABOUT UNION VILLA LONG-TERM CARE

For more than 55 years, Unionville Home Society has been a leader in seniors' care, delivering innovative programs and services that help older adults thrive.

While government funding supports essential clinical care at Union Villa, a 160-bed long-term care home, it does not fund many of the enhancements that create comfort, dignity, connection, and joy. Philanthropy bridges that gap, allowing Union Villa to offer the exceptional environment our residents deserve.

THE POWER OF PHILANTHROPY

For decades, donor generosity has transformed life at Union Villa. This philanthropic support has helped us:

- Rebuild Union Villa into a modern long-term care home
- Advance innovative dementia care
- Purchase specialized clinical and restorative equipment
- Enhance resident living spaces
- Expand music, art, recreation, and therapeutic programming
- Improve comfort, and safety for thousands of seniors

Every advancement beyond provincially funded care reflects the generosity of individuals, families, businesses, and community partners whose support strengthens the quality of life for older adults.

TOGETHER, WE'RE REDEFINING AGING

The Union Villa Dinner Party is more than an evening of celebration, it is our signature fundraising event and an opportunity for community leaders, businesses, and philanthropists to invest in the future of seniors' care.

Together, we are redefining what aging can look like by creating a community where older adults are supported with compassion, innovation, and exceptional care.

Join fellow corporate and community leaders for an unforgettable event featuring exceptional dining, live entertainment, an exciting silent auction, inspiring stories of resident impact, and meaningful opportunities to make a lasting difference.

INVESTING IN COMFORT YOU CAN'T SEE

Every resident deserves to feel healthy, comfortable, and at home, regardless of the season. This year's fundraising priority is completing essential HVAC modernization, an investment that directly supports the health, comfort, and well-being of every resident.

Behind every comfortable resident room, every family visit, and every peaceful night's sleep is an infrastructure that many people never see. Last year's generosity allowed us to replace critical components of Union Villa's aging climate control system. This year, we continue this essential work.

A modern HVAC system does far more than regulate temperature. It helps maintain healthy indoor air quality, supports infection prevention, protects vulnerable older adults during periods of extreme heat and cold, and creates an environment where residents can truly feel at home – now and for generations to come.
