

VOLUME FOUR

THE PROFESSIONAL

TABLE of CONTENTS

WELCOME TO YOUR CREATIVE CAREER
AND THE PURSUIT OF PURPOSE AND PROSPERITY

THE ASPIRING CREATIVE PROFESSIONAL

The Transition from a Student Who Loved To Create, to a Pro Who Now Must Get Paid to Create, Opens a Demanding and Daring World of Responsibility and Opportunity

THE GAME

Gotta' Know the Rules in Order to Bend, Break, or Beat 'Em

THE BUSINESS OF MAKING ART

The Logistical and Financial Practices to Support Your Career Goals

Knowing Your Worth

The Price of Success

Time To Grow Up

Getting Help with Money

YOUR MONEymAKING TOOLS

Maintaining Your Fiscal Responsibility to Empower Your Creativity

Bookkeeping Software

Expenses

Taxes

YOUR MONEymAKING TEAM

The Pros Who Deliver a Winning Financial Game Plan

Bookkeeper

Financial Advisor

Stockbroker

Personal Banker

GOING CORPORATE

Turning Your Talent into a Company To Grow with Your Success

THE PLAYERS IN YOUR GAME

The Professional Peers You Will Work with and Rely on To Realize the Potential of Your Creative Product

The Creative Director

The Art Director

The Assistant Art Director

The Designer

The Editor

The Writer

The Copywriter

The Person Who Answers the Phone

THE CLIENT

The Pros Behind the Projects

THE REP

The Process of Choosing the Best Person to Sell Your Talent

The Pros and Cons of Having a Rep

Who Chooses Whom?

Going it Alone—Choosing Not To Have a Rep

Reps, Business, and Money

Maintaining a Successful Connection with Your Rep

THE PRESENTATION

Selling Your Talent and Yourself

THE VALUE OF THE PRESENTATION

Sharing Your Creative Product

THE REALITY OF THE PRESENTATION

The Internet vs. The Meeting

THE HUMAN CONNECTION
OF THE PRESENTATION
Be True to Yourself when Sharing Your Talent

THE REJECTION OF THE PRESENTATION
Overcoming Disappointment and Disaster

THE OPTIMISM OF THE PRESENTATION
Celebrating the Opportunity to Share Your Talent

THE CLIENT CONNECTION OPTIONS
There Is No One Way to Reach Out

Phone call

Email

Referral

Portfolio drop-off

Promotional mailing

Professional website

Social media

THE BUSINESS CONNECTION
TO THE PRESENTATION
Do Whatever it Takes To Make Contact with Your Client

Celebrating the Opportunity To Share Your Talent

Overcoming the Disappointment and Disaster of a Shitty Presentation

Getting a Client to See Your Work Even if They Won't See You

The Practical and Conceptual Tools Necessary To Do Your Best

Getting Work from Experienced Clients

Getting Work from Novice Clients

Refining Your Skills in a Practice Meeting

THE POWER OF THE PRESENTATION
Staying True to Your Talent and Dreams

THE CLIENT APPOINTMENT

Making Contact with Pros Who Will Provide You with the Opportunity To Be a Productive and Prosperous Professional

PREPARING FOR YOUR APPOINTMENT

What To Wear, What To Bring, What To Say

THE CONTACT

Communicating with Your Client To Understand Your Responsibilities

GETTING PAID

Determining Your Financial Value as a Professional Imagemaker

THE CONTRACT

Negotiating and Protecting the Rights of Your Creative Product

THE PITCH MEETING

Selling Your Talent... and Yourself

The Power of The Pitch

The Plan of The Pitch

The Performance of The Pitch

The Potential of The Pitch

The Pressure of The Pitch

The Persuasion of The Pitch

The Profit of The Pitch

BE READY FOR ANYTHING

The Successful Presentation Will Demand Your Complete Self

Be Prepared

Be Prompt

Be Pleasant

Be Positive

Be Persuasive

Be Professional

Be Present

THE SCORE
Getting Your First Job

THE GIG
*The Preparation, Execution, and Delivery
of Your Creative Product*

THE PROCESS
A Step-by-Step Method to Being a Pro on the Job

GETTING TO WORK
The Journey of Sharing Your Creative Product with the World

FINISHING STRONG
*The Unveiling, Delivering, Revising, and Invoicing
of Your Creative Product*

THE PROCESS
A Step-by-Step Method to Being a Pro on the Job

THE CONTACT
Making a Professional Connection

BUILDING YOUR BUSINESS
The Nuts & Bolts of Creative Success

SETTING YOUR FEE AND GETTING YOU PAID
Your Art's Value and the Client's Money

Is There an Industry Standard for Fees?
What Will Be the Overall Usage of Your Creative Product?
Day Rate Vs. Flat Fee

THE BUSINESS SIDE OF GETTING PAID
The Nuts & Bolts of Fair Compensation for Your Talent

THE PERSONAL SIDE OF GETTING PAID
Finding a Balance Between Your Art & Your Business

THE WAYS TO GET PAID

Clients Come in All Sizes, Shapes & Net Worths

The High-Roller

The Low-Baller

The Insider

The Amateur

The Barter

The Freebie

THE NEGOTIATION

The Art of Fighting Fair

Am I Being Paid Enough?

Do I Have the Courage To Ask for What I Believe I'm Worth?

What Is My Creative Value to the Project?

How Does My Degree of Success or Experience Affect My Fee?

How Badly Do I Want the Gig?

THE BIG PAYDAY

Cashing in on Your Talent for More Money than You Ever Thought Possible

HONESTY IS STILL THE BEST POLICY

Truth in Getting Paid

THE CONTRACT

The Fine Print Can Be Your Friend

THE FIVE R'S OF A SUCCESSFUL CONTRACT

Receive, Review, Revise, Resolve, and Return

KEEPING YOUR BALANCE

Finding Purpose within the Pressure of the Professional World

STAND YOUR GROUND

Protecting Your Creative Process

RESPECT AND YOUR CREATIVE PRODUCT

Protecting Your Integrity While Maintaining Your Inspiration

GETTING PAID

Your Art's Value and the Client's Money

NAMING YOUR PRICE

Being Fearless in Declaring the True Worth of Your Creative Product

REUSE OF YOUR CREATIVE PRODUCT

A Second Life and Payday for Your Talent

OUT OF YOUR HANDS, OUT OF YOUR CONTROL

The Journey of Your Creative Product Beyond its Creation

Taking Responsibility for Having No Control

The Client and Loss of Control

The Freedom of No Control

YOUR PARTNER IN SUCCESS

Maintaining a Professional Connection with Your Client

GETTING TO WORK

The Journey of Sharing Your Creative Product with the World

THE BEST SPACE

Finding the Most Productive Environment To Create

THE BEST TOOLS

The Gizmos and Gadgets To Get Shit Done

THE BEST HELP

Seeking, Hiring, and Trusting Those Who Will Support Your Success

THE BEST SPEED

Finding the Most Productive Pace To Create Your Finest Work

THE BEST ATTITUDE

Nurturing the Trust, Respect, and Optimism To Ensure Intriguing, Prosperous, and Fun Collaborations

FINISHING STRONG

*The Unveiling, Delivering, Revising, and Invoicing
of Your Creative Product*

THE UNVEILING

Choosing the Moment To Share Your Talent

THE DELIVERY

Managing Your Time, Effort, and Focus To Ensure a Job Well Done

MAINTAINING A PERSONAL CONNECTION WITH YOUR CLIENT IN THE DIGITAL AGE

Don't Let the Convenience of Technology Cause a Disconnect with Your Client

THE REVISION

Welcome to the Revision Phase of Your Creative Product

Making Changes to Your Creative Product

Responding to Revisions

The Mental Game of the Revision

The Joy of the Revision

THE COMPLEXITY OF THE REVISION

Did I Rush it?

Did I Care Enough?

Am I Just Being a Big Baby?

THE REASONS I DON'T CHARGE FOR REVISIONS

I Fucked Up

I See Their Point

I Took a Chance

I Don't Sweat it

I Get Paid a Lot of Money

I Work Fast

I Love My Client

THE REASONS I DO CHARGE FOR REVISIONS

They Fucked Up

I Never Agreed to This

I Think We're Talking About a Different Project

I've Had Enough

THE INVOICE

The Document that Defines the Details of a Deal

The Process of Invoicing

Your Invoicing System

Designing Your Invoice

Tracking Your Invoices

Invoicing Through Your Client's Pay Portal

GETTING STIFFED

The Vigilance and Strategy To Make Sure You Get Paid

WHAT IF THE CLIENT HATES IT?

The Kill Fee

Negotiating Your Kill Fee

Your Emotions and Your Kill Fee

Protecting Your Kill Fee

The Zen of the Kill Fee

FROM A FAILURE COMES A GREATER SUCCESS

If the Initial Fallout of Failure Can Be Accepted, a New Awareness and Strength Can Be Achieved

THE NEW WORK

The Next Generation of Your Creative Product

Keep it Fresh

Don't Get Lazy

Don't Give Up

GATHERING AND PRESERVING YOUR CREATIVE PRODUCT

Protecting Your Body of Work Is Essential To Tell the Story of Your Talent, Ambition, and Purpose over a Fulfilling Career

ONE DOWN, THOUSANDS TO GO

Getting that Next Job

PART OF A TEAM

The Demands and Delights of Choosing Collaboration and Community

GOING IT ALONE

To Soar May Only Come from Flying Solo

STAY THE COURSE

Whether a Professional Drought Lasts a Month or a Year, it's a Time to Call Upon Your Skills and Strategy to Replenish Your Workload and Revive Your Attitude

THE ARRIVAL

Congratulations, You're a Success

DECLARING YOUR SUCCESS

The Thrilling yet Sometimes Confusing Challenge to Accept You've Achieved Professional Respect and Financial Prosperity

The Reality of Facing Success

The Pride and Price of Success

The Job of Maintaining Success

GETTING BUSY

The Storm (of Success) Before the Calm (of Getting Help)

GETTING HELP

Finding the Support To Meet the Demand for Your Talent

Your Wake-Up Call that You Need Help

Finding that Perfect Someone (To Help You)

Whomever You Choose To Help You, Choose Wisely

Doing Your Part To Help Your Helpers

REALITY HITS

*Although Nothing Is Scarier Than Having Too Little Work—
Having Too Much Can Spawn its Own Terror*

THE DISCIPLINE OF DISCRETION

Protecting and Respecting the Privacy of those You Work With

PLAYING BY A NEW SET OF RULES

*Success Will Bring Joy, Pain, Pride, Doubt, and Hope
You Can Never Truly Be Prepared For*

DECIDING WHICH JOBS TO TAKE

The Luxury and Burden of Choice

SAYING NO TO A BIG JOB

Making a Tough Choice for the Right Reason

CHOOSING SIDES

The Price and Pride of Loyalty

The Need for Loyalty

The Discovery of Loyalty

The Risks and Rewards of Loyalty

The Mechanics of Loyalty

The Laws of Loyalty

The Vagaries of Loyalty

YOU'RE MINE

Who Owes Whom in the Imagemaker/Client Dynamic?

A CHANGING OF THE GUARD

Nothing Lasts Forever, Nor Should It

DON'T YOU KNOW WHO I AM?

Gratitude Before Grandiosity

KEEP YOUR COOL

Controlling Your Patience, Pressure, and Ego

WE'D LOVE TO WORK WITH YOU, BUT...

The Unexpected Twist of Success

THE VALUE (AND DANGER) OF EXPOSURE

Balancing Your Professional Success and Personal Growth

THE LONG VIEW

Pacing Yourself During a Demanding Career

TAKING A STEP BACK

The Value of Being a Follower

THE CHALLENGE AND CHARITY OF COLLABORATION

Sharing Your Creative Wealth

With Collaboration Comes Communication and Compromise

The Challenge and Thrill of Collaboration

Collaboration and Incompatibility

The Responsibility of Collaboration

What if You Hate To Collaborate?

With Collaboration Comes Trust

THE POWER AND PAIN OF CHANGE

Accepting the Truth that Nothing Stays the Same

DEEP SHIT

The Change from One Style to a New Style

DEEPER SHIT

The Change from One Career to a New Career

DEEPEST SHIT

The Change from Getting that Next Gig to Getting a New Life

A TICKET TO A NEW CAREER

Embarking on the Journey to Your Next Creative Horizon

WHAT'S NEXT?

Life Beyond Success

THE WORK OF STOPPING

How do You Know When It's Time to Take a Break?

FACING THE VOID

*Surviving the Loss of Direction or Lack of Purpose
When Deciding To Take a Break*

MAKING A PLAN TO TAKE A BREAK

*Making the Preparation To Ensure
You Get Recharged During Your Time Off*

WHAT WILL THEY DO WITHOUT ME?

*Prevailing Over the Terror that Your Clients
Can't Live without Your Talents*

GETTING A LIFE

A Plan for Tough Love

A NEW KIND OF SUCCESS

The Power and Joy in Realizing that the Quest for Professional Acclaim Isn't Everything

FACING THE TRUTH THAT SUCCESS IS NOT ENOUGH

The Dread and Freedom of Not Giving a Shit

What Will My Clients Do without Me?

What's in it for Me?

Doing Whatever it Takes To Take a Break

The Power of Doing Nothing

I NEVER THOUGHT SUCCESS COULD BE A DIRTY WORD

Becoming Successful Can Reveal Unforeseen and Unwelcome Challenges that Must Be Overcome To Maintain Professional Prosperity and Personal Fulfillment

Success Can Bring Power, Joy, Fame, Opportunity, Pride, Swagger, Money, Respect, Security, Glitz, Comfort, Fun, Courage, and Hope

Success Can Also Bring Exhaustion, Arrogance, Pettiness, Envy, Loneliness, Conflict, Fear, Conceit, Pressure, Doubt, and Failure

THE PROCESS OF GETTING A LIFE IS A PAIN IN THE ASS

Facing the Truth in Balancing Career and Life

HOW WILL YOU KNOW WHEN YOU HAVE A LIFE?

Summoning the Humility and Honesty to Give Yourself Permission to Achieve a Balance Between the Professional and the Personal

THE DUTY OF THE SUCCESSFUL IMAGEMAKER

Paying Back for All You've Achieved and All You've Been Given

GOING GLOBAL

Your Creative Product and the World

MAKING YOUR MARK

What Will Your Imagemaking Legacy Be?

THERE'S PLENTY TO GO AROUND

Having the Passion, Confidence, and Generosity To Share Your Secrets

THE NUTS AND BOLTS OF SPILLING YOUR CREATIVE GUTS

The Duty To Tell Your Success Story