Introduction

The approximately four-week season of Advent calls the church into a time of thoughtful and intentional preparation for Christmas. Advent officially begins on the Sunday after Christ the King Sunday and ends on Christmas Eve. This means the length of Advent and its start date varies year-to-year.[1] This year, Advent begins on November 29 and is 26 days long.

From the Latin word adventus, the English word advent means "coming" or "arrival". So, during this season, we look back and remember Jesus' first coming and the fulfillment of all of God's promises to send a savior (2 Corinthians 1:10). At the same time, we look ahead in anticipation of Jesus' second coming. Jesus' resurrection inaugurated a new era in which sin is defeated, but until he returns, our world continues to experience the effects of sin. Along with creation, we yearn for the day when our savior returns to complete his work of renewal once and for all (Romans 8:22-23).

As a season of longing, the cry and prayer of Advent is taken from Revelation 22:20: "Come, Lord Jesus, come!" This is the cry of those who know the world is not the way it's supposed to be. This is the cry of those who long to see God's justice and the resurrection life of Jesus fully manifested in every area of life. This is the cry of those who want their tears wiped away for good. This is the cry that embodies all of our deepest desires. The mood of Advent is thus marked by remembrance, preparation, and longing. The color often used during Advent is purple, which symbolizes suffering and repentance.

So, what do we exactly do during Advent? We wait and prepare by recommitting ourselves to the Christian practices that root us in the story of God's great love for us and the world in Jesus Christ. In other words, we root ourselves in the hope God gives to us in the gospel. We offer God our desires, hopes, fears and laments. We turn towards Jesus and set aside our false hopes and desires that twist our hearts and break our relationships and world. We learn to pray "Come, Lord Jesus" with new urgency.

We offer this guide to help you look back and ahead, and to help you prepare for Christmas. The guide offers daily prayers and scripture readings in a liturgy – or format and rhythm – similar to our Sunday worship.

Elements of the Daily Liturgy.

Each daily liturgy begins with a short scriptural call to prayer. It's followed by a reading from the Psalms and a moment for confession. Then comes the main scripture reading. The liturgy ends with an invitation to respond in prayer.

[1] Commercial Advent calendars and retailers typically start the season on December 1—having 24 days every year is easier for a variety of reasons.

Scripture readings for the first week of Advent focus on various promises of God found in the prophetic writings of the Old Testament to send Jesus. The second week focuses on the birth and arrival of Jesus. The third week focuses on the life and ministry of Jesus. And the final short week focuses on passages that help us anticipate his return. Christmas Day, the end of Advent, has its own dedicated liturgy.

After each reading, a verse from the ancient hymn O Antiphons – the inspiration for the beloved hymn O Come, O Come Emmanuel – is provided for meditation. Each verse begins with O and is followed by one of the messianic titles for Jesus Christ, many of which come from the prophetic writings in the Old Testament. Each verse calls on God to fulfill his promises to send a redeemer. In other words, they embody the deep longings of the human heart. We hope meditating on the O Antiphons helps give words to the prayers the words of scripture spark in you.

You'll notice that the liturgy for Saturdays is supplemented by a variation of the Examen. Coming from the monastic tradition, the Examen is a guided prayer that helps us notice God's presence in the ordinary contours of our day to day lives. In a sense, Jesus is always arriving. Jesus is the Good Shepherd who is always coming towards us with the good news of his love. And sometimes we need a little help from tools like the Examen to see him. The form for the weekly Examen is on page three.

How to Use This Guide.

We encourage you to use the guide as you discern best - it's meant to be flexible. Use it at any time of day. Some days, you might choose to use the entire daily liturgy. Other days, you might choose to focus on parts. There is no correct way to use the guide, as there is no one correct way to pray.

If you're new to using this kind of daily liturgy to pray and wondering how long the full liturgy might take, here's a sample breakdown:

- Call to Prayer: 1 minute
- The Psalm: 3-4 minutes
- The Confession: 2-3 minutes
- The Scripture Reading: 5-10 minutes.
- O Antiphon Reflection: 2 minutes.
- Closing Prayer: 4-6 minutes.
- Saturday Examen: 5-10 minutes

All in all, the full daily liturgy should take no more than about 15-25 minutes, or 20-35 minutes if you include the Examen on Saturdays. Again, this guide is meant to be flexible. We hope it helps you pray whenever or wherever you do so. Pray in the mornings or evenings. Bring it with you on the subway or bus. Use it during a lunch break. However you use this guide, we hope you discover different aspects of the good news of Jesus and learn to pray, "Come, Lord Jesus," afresh.

A note to families:

Advent can be a wonderful time to fortify existing spiritual rhythms or establish new ones. The daily liturgy is simple and adaptable enough to use as a family. For households with little ones and early readers, we recommend using "The Jesus Storybook Bible Advent Reading Plan," which starts on December 1.

Weekly Examen

Take a few moments to relax into God's presence. Ask the Holy Spirit for help to remember the past week and to notice Jesus' grace, especially in unexpected places. (2-3 minutes)

- Review the past week. First note the people, events, and experiences for which you are grateful. (2-3 minutes)
- Then note the people, events, and experiences that have been difficult or upsetting. (2-3 minutes)
- As you review your thanksgivings and frustrations, what do you notice? Where and how is God trying to surprise you with his grace? What is God asking you to do? (2-3 minutes)
- End with prayers of confession, thanksgiving, and for the week ahead.

The Life of Jesus

Psalm 84
Luke 2:41-52

WEEK 4

December 20

Promises of Jesus' Return

Psalm 90
Matthew 24:1-14

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body.

> "I will praise you as long as I live, and in your name I will lift up my hands."
>
> - Psalm 63:4

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

> Lord, we have not kept watch for you and we have not acknowledged the ever-constant love you give to us. We are too busy with our fears. We are too busy with our work and comfort. We have not waited to find your will for us. We have not noticed the needs of our neighbor. Forgive us for our lack of watchfulness and renew us this day. Amen.
>
> Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read the main Old or New Testament passage for today and consider:

- Which words, phrases or images grab your attention? Why?
- What aspects of Jesus' character does the passage reveal?
- What's one way you can apply the wisdom of today's passage to your life today?

Song of Response: O Wisdom

Reflect on this stanza from the O Antiphons:

> O Wisdom, coming forth from the mouth of the Most High, reaching from one end to the other mightily, and sweetly ordering all things: Come and teach us the way of prudence.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- The New York Society for Ethical Culture, our hosts for LSQ's Sunday services.
- All seeking church homes and for LSQ and other churches to be ready to welcome them.
- The elders, deacons, deaconesses, staff, and pastors of LSQ, that they would be encouraged in the gospel.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or the following verses based on Revelation 22:20-21.

> Jesus says to his people, "Surely I am coming soon." May our hearts be ready. Come, Lord Jesus! Amen.

Family Readings

Read along in The Jesus Storybook Bible instead of or in addition to the recommended scripture readings.

> Our family readings begin December 1. Find today's readings in the back of this guide (pages 20-21).

Psalm 29
Luke 3:1-22

WEEK 4

December 21

Promises of Jesus' Return

Psalm 50
Matthew 24:29-44

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body for prayer.

"We wait in hope for the Lord; he is our help and our shield."

– Psalm 33:20

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in honest confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

Lord God, our lives are filled with sin, with desires, actions and attitudes that contradict your good will for us and the world. We forget our neighbor's needs and do not love you above all else. We need your saving love. Soften our hearts to your son and our savior, Jesus Christ. Open our hearts and minds to receive him anew this season. Amen.

Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read the main Old or New Testament passage for today and consider:

- What themes do you notice? How do they speak to your life right now?
- What word of encouragement or challenge do you hear? Is there someone you would like to share it with?

Song of Response: O Adonai

Respond with this stanza from the O Antiphons:

O Adonai and leader of Israel, you appeared to Moses in a burning bush and you gave him the law on Mount Sinai. O come and stretch out your mighty hand to redeem us.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- Our elected leaders, that they govern with wisdom and compassion and remember the poor and marginalized.
- LSQ's children, youth, and family ministries; for families to grow deeper together in the gospel as they prepare for Christmas.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or following verses and blessing from 1 Thessalonians 3:12-13:

And may the Lord make you increase and abound in love for one another and for all, as we do for you, so that he may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints. Come, Lord Jesus, come! Amen.

Family Readings

Promises of Jesus' Return

Psalm 23
1 Thessalonians 4:13-18

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body.

> "I wait for the Lord, my whole being waits, and in his word I put my hope."
>
> – Psalm 130:5

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

> Lord Christ, we confess our willingness to be loved but also our reluctance to love. We confess our readiness to accept your forgiving love but also our refusal to forgive. We confess our eagerness to grasp your offer of redeeming love but also our resistance to follow you without question. In this Advent time, forgive us our failure and renew us with your grace. Amen.
>
> Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read the main Old or New Testament passage for today and consider:

- Which words, phrases, or images grab your attention? Why?
- What does the passage reveal about your desires and hopes?
- In what ways does the passage help you see God's presence?

Song of Response: O Root of Jesse

Reflect on this stanza from the O Antiphons:

> O Root of Jesse, you have been raised up as a sign for all peoples; kings fall silent before you; nations bow down and worship you. O come to deliver us and do not delay.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- New or deepening friendships with neighbors and colleagues; for opportunities to share life together and the gospel.
- LSQ's men's and women's ministries, that they would be places of deep connection and encouragement.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or following verses and blessing based on Isaiah 11:10 and Romans 15:13.

> And again Isaiah says, "The root of Jesse will come, even he who arises to rule the Gentiles; in him will the Gentiles hope." May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope. Come, Lord, Jesus, come! Amen.

Promises of Jesus' Return

Psalm 102:25-29
2 Peter 3:8-14

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body.

"I will sing the Lord's praise, for he has been good to me."

– Psalm 13:6

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

Lord, we have not kept watch for you. We have occupied ourselves with our own concerns. We have not waited to find your will for us. We have not noticed the needs of the people around us. We have not acknowledged the love that has been shown to us. Forgive us for our lack of watchfulness. Help us to wait to know your will. Help us to look out for the needs of others. Help us to work and watch for your coming. Amen.

Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read the main Old or New Testament passage for today and consider:

- What words of the passage resonates with you the most? Why?
- What word of God's grace, mercy and forgiveness do you hear?
- Is there a person with whom you can share the passage or what you learned today?

Song of Response: O Key of Jesse

Reflect on this stanza from the O Antiphons:

> O Key of David and scepter of Israel, what you open no one else can close again; what you close no one can open. O come to lead the captives from prison; free those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- The unemployed or underemployed looking for work, as well as the unhoused; for God's provision of new opportunities.
- LSQ's community groups, for its leaders and members, that they would grow in love for one another and our city.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or following prayer from the Worship Sourcebook:

> O Almighty God, whose light shines in the darkness: Set our hearts alight with the fire of your love and awaken hope within us, that amidst the darkness of our broken world, we may walk in confident expectation that your light will never be overcome. We pray in his name. Come, Lord Jesus, come! Amen.

Revelation 21:1-7, 22:12-13

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body.

"I wait for your salvation, Lord, and I follow your commands."

– Psalm 119:166

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

While we want the most meaningful holiday season ever, we sadly confess having done so little with so much. Forgive us Lord, for not bending the knee, for not reading your Word, for not searching our hearts, for not facing our sins. Forgive us according to your tender mercies, O God! Grant that when Christmas morning breaks for us this year, we may have a fresh sense of your presence and a renewed resolve to live to the praise of Christ's glory. Amen.

Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read the main Old or New Testament passage for today and consider:

- Which words, phrases, or images prick your conscience? How might they help you continue confessing as well as seek forgiveness?
- What part of the passage makes you most curious?

Song of Response: O Radiant Dawn

Reflect on this stanza from the O Antiphons:

O Radiant Dawn, you are the splendor of eternal light and the sun of justice. O come and shine on those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- All areas experiencing war or violence, for God's mercy, reconciliation, and peace to be known; for opportunities to be peacemakers in our homes, neighborhoods, and workplaces.
- LSQ's Young Adult Ministry, that all would be known, loved and cared for.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or following prayer from the Worship Sourcebook:

O Jesus Christ, joy of every longing heart, whose first coming caused both earth and heaven to rejoice: Fill us with abiding joy as we anticipate your return, that even in the darkness our hearts would sing your song; and prepare us, along with all creation, for the everlasting joy of your Kingdom as we await the marriage of heaven and earth; in your strong name we pray. Come, Lord Jesus, come! Amen.

The Life of Jesus

Psalm 30
Luke 7:11-17

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body.

"The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusts in him, and he helps me. My heart leaps for joy, and with my song I praise him."

– Psalm 28:7

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

It is Advent. It is the season in which we prepare our hearts to celebrate your coming, Jesus Christ. You are the one who is the bringer of all peace. We confess to you the ways in which we block your peace in our lives. God of peace, hear our prayer, forgive us and show us the way of reconciliation, mercy and justice. Amen.

Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read the main Old or New Testament passage for today and consider:

- What words of peace do you hear for yourself, neighbors, and the world?
- How might you respond to today's passage in thought, word, or deed?

Song of Response: O King

Reflect on this stanza from the O Antiphons:

> O King whom all the peoples desire, you are the cornerstone which makes all one. O come and deliver the creature you fashioned from the dust of the earth.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- The lonely, homebound, and sick; for God's healing hand, comfort, and protection.
- LSQ's Community Engagement and our neighborhood partnerships, that we would be for the joy of the city.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or following prayer from the 5th century Gelasian liturgy:

> Almighty God, grant this grace to your people, that we may be vigilant for the coming of your only Son, that as our Savior taught us, we may prepare our souls like blazing lamps to meet him; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHRISTMAS DAY

December 25

Promises of Jesus' First Coming

Psalm 98
Colossians 1:15-23

The Call to Prayer

Our God is with you and invites you into this time. May these opening words settle and prepare your heart, mind, and body.

The people walking in darkness have seen a great light; on those living in the land of the shadow of death a light has dawned. Jesus Christ is our life and light. In his name and in his power, let us turn our hearts to God!

— based on Isaiah 9:2, NIV

The Psalm of Response

Continue with the Psalm of the day. Meditate on the entire Psalm or a part.

The Confession

Spend the next few moments in confession, remembering God's readiness to forgive and renew.

God of love, all year long we pursue power and money, yet you come in weakness. All season long we covet great material gifts, when you alone offer what is lasting. Through the work of this Lord Jesus, who comes among us full of grace and truth, forgive us, heal us, correct us. Then open our lips, that we may sing your praise with the angels. Remake our lives, that we may witness to your transforming love. Through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Continue in silent prayer

The Good News

Read today's passage from Colossians and consider:

- What do you notice about Jesus? What new hope is being offered to you?
- In what ways does the passage invite you to new trust and faith?

Song of Response: O Radiant Dawn

Reflect on this stanza from the O Antiphons:

> O Radiant Dawn, you are the splendor of eternal light and the sun of justice. O come and shine on those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death.

Closing Prayers

Offer to God your needs and the needs of your neighbors, church, city, and world. Include prayers for:

- Those who must work today.
- Those who are separated from family, friends, and other loved ones on this day.
- LSQ as we prepare for 2027 and all that God has in store for us in the New Year.

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or following verses and blessing adapted from Isaiah 35:3-4:

> But the Bethlehem star may lead me. To the sight of Him Who freed me. From the self that I have been. Make me pure, Lord: Thou art Holy; Make me meek, Lord: Thou wert lowly; Now beginning, and always, Now begin, on Christmas day.

Sunday Services

We will have regular Sunday Services on 12/27 and 1/3. See you there! Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
