Past performance is not an indication of future results. Actual results may be materially different from the results achieved historically. The above performance information is supplemental. Please see the GIPS Reports included in this fact sheet for complete performance, including net and benchmark descriptions. Fees are based on a client's volatility level, which can be customized to their preference. Net returns are calculated using implied management fees of 0.75% per annum and performance fees of 10% per annum, which are the highest fee level based on the highest volatility level. Please refer to the disclosures at the end of these materials for important additional information.

1. Track record for Currency Risk Management Overlay strategies prior to May 2004, the date that the Currency Risk Management team joined Mesirow, occurred at prior firms. Track record for Currency Alpha and Macro strategies prior to October 1, 2018, the date that the Currency Alpha and Macro Strategies team joined Mesirow, occurred at prior firms.

2. As of 12.30.2025. Currency assets under management includes AUM associated with (i) active and passive currency risk management products $214.27 billion, (ii) non-fx overlay strategies such as equitization and beta overlays $1.09 billion, and (iii) alpha strategies $1.76 billion. In all such cases, AUM is calculated based on notional value of currency investments. Additionally, AUM for alpha strategies is adjusted because clients can select a volatility target (generally between 2% and 12% annualized), which is normalized to 2% in order to create a consistent depiction of alpha strategy AUM. This results in a "scaled" AUM, which is higher than the actual aggregate notional value of all alpha strategy portfolios if clients have selected a volatility target higher than 2%. As of 12.31.2025, the "unscaled" AUM for alpha strategies was $409.57 million.

3. Performance prior to February 2018 represents hypothetical trading with backfilled data and does not represent trading on behalf of an actual client account. The returns for February 2018 are unadjusted returns for a partial month. Performance of the Systematic Macro Strategy prior to October 1, 2018, was attained at The Cambridge Strategy (TCS), an unaffiliated investment manager. On October 1, 2018, a MFIM affiliate completed the purchase of a significant portion of TCS' assets, including TCS' intellectual property and hired a majority of TCS employees. Past performance is not an indication of future results. Actual results may be materially different from the results achieved historically. This strategy has not been GIPS verified.

Notes on performance: The Systematic Macro Multi-Strategy commenced trading in February 2018 and combines the systematic carve-outs from the Emerging, Asian and Extended Market Macro Strategies. These three carve-out components are combined into a single set of portfolio returns using an equal-risk allocation procedure based on a proprietary method of measuring each component's portfolio risk contribution. Leverage is then used to target an overall portfolio volatility of 12% per annum. The allocation weights are hypothetical from January 2012 to January 2018. Net returns are calculated using implied management fees of 1.5% per annum and performance fees of 15% per annum. Performance fees are accrued daily, paid quarterly and a high water mark is employed. Performance is in USD and all returns and statistics are based on monthly returns. The composite includes all fee paying accounts, including both commingled and managed accounts, as well as accounts funded with Mesirow capital (which may be commingled with client assets). Currency trading may involve instruments that have volatile prices, are illiquid or create economic leverage. Emerging markets securities involve risks such as currency fluctuation and political and economic instability that could result in additional volatility. Unhedged short sales expose the strategy to additional liability. The strategies illustrated above include accounts containing both client and Firm capital. To the extent that any account contained both client and Firm capital, assets in such account were traded in an identical manner and thus the client and Firm have identical gross returns. All net returns shown above have been pro-forma adjusted to reflect the highest fees that clients could incur in connection with such strategies and trading, and thus actual performance results may have varied.

Past performance is not an indication of future results. Actual results may be materially different from the results achieved historically.

Certain strategies discussed throughout the document are based on proprietary models of MC's or its affiliates. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those referenced.

Performance pertaining to the Currency Alpha and Macro strategies may be stated gross of fees or net of fees. Performance information that is provided net of fees reflects the deduction of implied management and performance fees. Performance information that is provided gross of fees does not reflect the deduction of advisory fees. Client returns will be reduced by such fees and other expenses that may be incurred in the management of the account. Advisory fees are described in Part II of Form ADV of Mesirow Financial Investment Management, Inc. For any performance information that is provided gross of fees, MFIM will provide performance results net of such fees upon request. Hypothetical model performance information and results do not reflect actual trading or asset or fund advisory management and the results may not reflect the impact that material economic and market factors may have had. Hypothetical performance results have many inherent limitations, some of which are described herein. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. In fact, there are frequently sharp differences between hypothetical performance results and the actual results subsequently achieved by any particular trading program. One of the limitations of hypothetical performance results is that they are generally prepared with the benefit of hindsight. In addition, hypothetical trading does not involve financial risk, and no hypothetical trading record can completely account for the impact of financial risk in actual trading. For example, the ability to withstand losses or adhere to a particular trading program in spite of trading losses are material points which can also adversely affect actual trading results. There are numerous other factors related to the markets in general or to the implementation of any specific trading program which cannot be fully accounted for in the preparation of hypothetical performance results and all of which can adversely affect actual trading results.

Comparisons to any indices referenced herein are for illustrative purposes only and are not meant to imply that a strategy's returns or volatility will be similar to the indices. The strategy is compared to the indices because they are widely used performance benchmarks.
