

Welcome to Restaurant Heemelrijck.

The family recipes you find here have been developed since 1949 by Grandpa Nars. That year, in honor of his deported best friend Cor, Nars opened a sandwich shop on Damrak: Narco's Sandwich Shop. Before the war, these two friends were an acrobatic duo and owned a taxi company, both without a driver's license. Over the years, the sandwich shop evolved into a restaurant and later into a French-Dutch bistro. This has led to the third generation continuing the traditions and recipes in the heart of Amsterdam's Pijp district. Today, we strive to work with as many local products as possible.
