ABOUT

Lantern & Scroll is not your ordinary lighting store. Lantern & Scroll exists to be different and to give customers what they would want when shopping for lighting: high quality, fairly priced products, cheaper than you imagined; all with stellar customer service.

Lantern & Scroll designs and handcrafts exceptional exterior and interior light fixtures. They were born out of innovation and change as a Southern family business re-structured to move with the times, transitioning from textiles to lighting, and they haven't stopped innovating and changing to suit their customers' needs.

Their core collection of lanterns are historical reproductions of lights that graced many of Charleston's historic homes. Today, at the urging of their designer customers, they also offer many contemporary options as well. Their unique custom design service allows customers' ideas and inspirations to become a reality.

Lantern & Scroll makes all of its gas and electric copper lighting in Cayce, South Carolina, from design to production every step of the fabrication process takes place in their factory. Artisans begin with a large sheet of copper, which, over the course of many man-hours, will be cut, bent, soldered, riveted, sanded, and finished. Their manufacturing process is a labor of love and attention to detail.
