About

With over 40 years of experience, Kindermusik International is the global leader in music-based education for children from birth to age seven, operating in more than 70 countries. Their developmentally specific and research-based music and movement classes are designed to support children's learning and growth during critical brain development years. Families benefit from both engaging class experiences and accompanying home materials that encourage continuous learning. Local licensed Kindermusik educators lead classes that promote creativity and development through music, while providing parents with tools to extend learning at home. Having reached over 2 million families worldwide, Kindermusik continues to foster a lifelong love of learning.

Missy Wilson

Owner

I hold a bachelor's and master's degree in Music Education. I taught in the public schools for 9 years. When I had my own children 9 years ago, I decided I wanted something different, so I started Kindermusik with Missy from the ground up! We are now the 6th largest Kindermusik program in the United States and 9th largest in the World! We've nailed it and now we're scaling it! We'd love the opportunity to bring Kindermusik to the families in your area!
