

Kula Appoints Raj Kapoor as Strategic Advisor

LONDON, 14th of May 2026 - Kula is pleased to announce the appointment of Raj Kapoor as Strategic Advisor to the company, strengthening its leadership network as it continues to expand its vision and strategic partnerships internationally.

Raj Kapoor brings extensive global business experience across technology, strategic partnerships, innovation ecosystems and cross-border market development, with a strong international network spanning the UAE, India, Asia and the wider global investment community. In his advisory role, he will support Kula's strategic growth initiatives, international relationships and long-term market positioning.

The appointment comes at a significant stage in Kula's evolution as the company continues to build a diversified international pipeline spanning sectors including energy transition, financial inclusion, healthcare, agriculture, sustainable infrastructure and emerging technologies across Africa, Asia and the Americas.

"Raj's international experience, strategic network and entrepreneurial mindset make him an exceptional addition to Kula," said Paul Jackson, CEO of Kula. "As we continue to scale our global ecosystem and develop impactful investment opportunities across multiple markets and sectors, Raj's insight and relationships will play an important role in supporting our next phase of growth."

Commenting on the appointment, Raj Kapoor said: "Kula is building a unique platform focused on innovation, international collaboration and long-term value creation across emerging markets. I'm excited to join as Strategic Advisor and support the team as they continue to expand their vision and global partnerships."

Kula continues to strengthen its position as a governance-first platform connecting global capital, community participation and real-world impact across emerging and frontier markets.
