

Theology Threads | Season 6: Episode 5 Notes | Faith and Works

Summary

Welcome back to Theology Threads for Episode 5 of Season 6! Today we take a look at what the book of James is most famous for, faith and works. This concept has divided christianity itself from the very beginning. People, churches and denominations have been arguing about this for hundreds of years. In this episode we will examine how these two ideas conflict with each other and how they can work together to create a beautifully complete faith!

Reflection Questions

Which area do you struggle with most, faith or works?

How does faith and works play out in our everyday lives? Relationships, family, work, social media, and interactions with strangers?

Have you ever felt lead to do something and decided not to do it? Or acted upon a sense to do something and did it? How did that make you feel?
