PRODUCERS SPOTLIGHT

Witches Falls Winery Granite Belt, Queensland

Tradition, innovation and a strong sense of place. Jon and Kim Heslop established Witches Falls Winery on Tamborine Mountain in 2003, creating wines that reflect the character of Queensland's Granite Belt.

Led by chief winemaker Jon Heslop, the team combines traditional techniques with modern practices and a minimal-intervention approach. Every wine is made on-site, giving the team close control from grape to bottle.

Using high-altitude Granite Belt fruit, Witches Falls produces wines with freshness, structure and character. Solar power, recycled materials and locally composted grape waste also support its practical approach to sustainable winemaking
