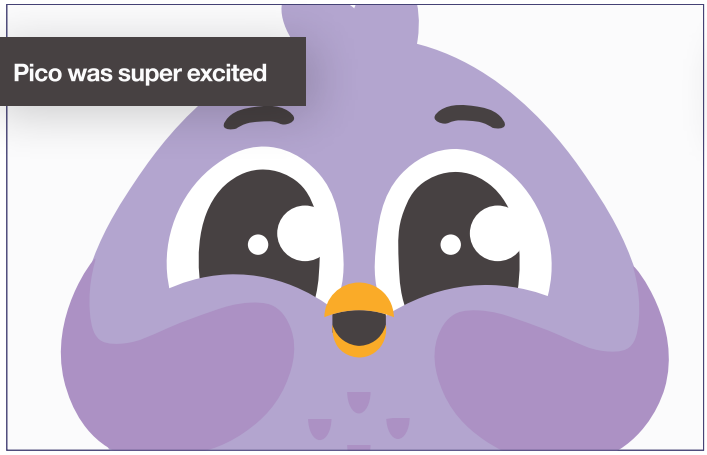
Pico's Click Goes Wrong

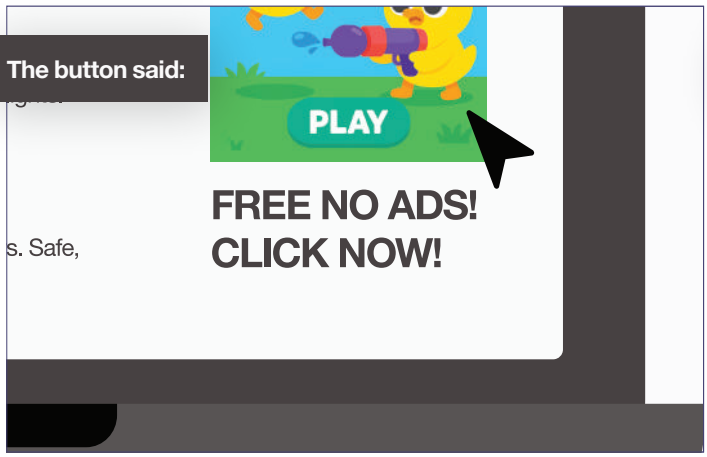
Pico just wanted to play BlasterDuck Infinity. But one click on a sparkly 'FREE PRIZE' button turns his tablet into a noisy, glitchy nightmare! Can Luno's Malware Sucker 5000 clean up the mess before King Hacker takes over?

Pico was super excited

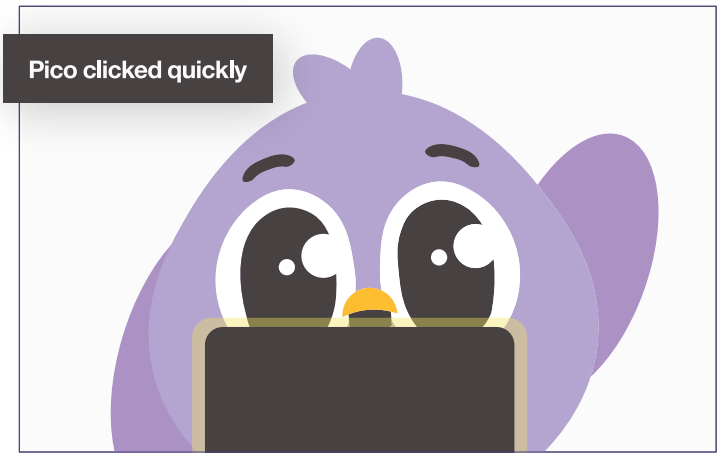


He had just found a new game online called BlasterDuck Infinity

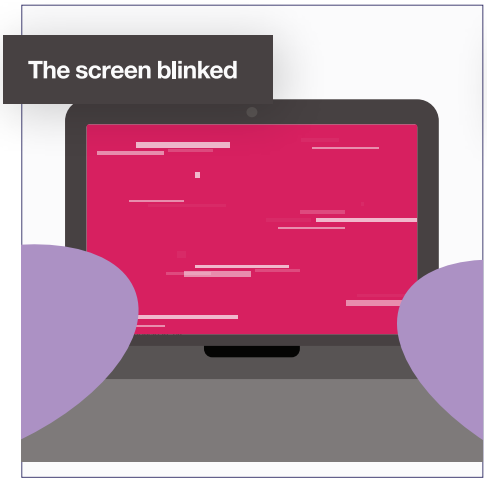
The button said:



Pico clicked quickly

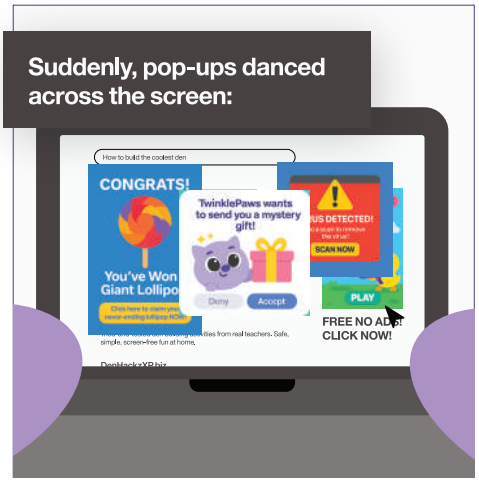


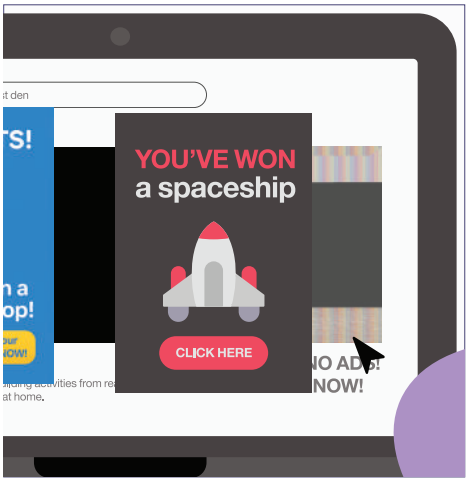
The screen blinked

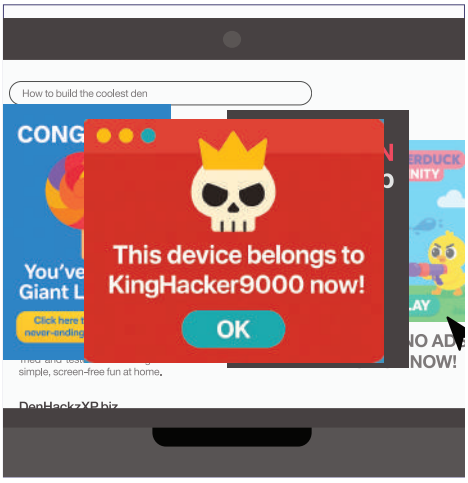


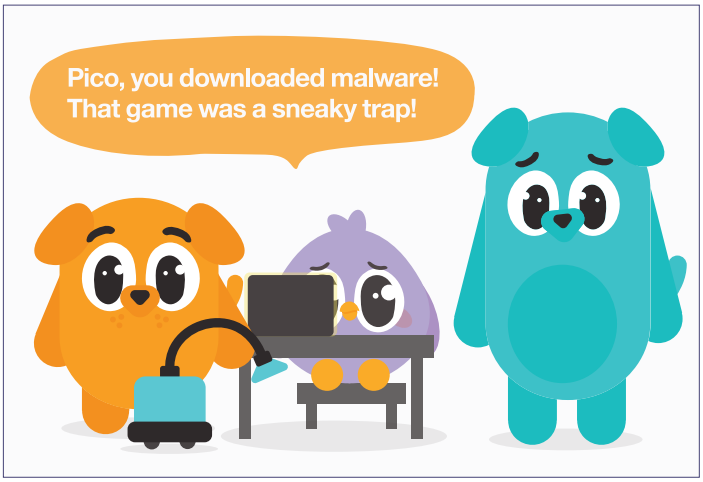
Then his tablet made a noise like a goose stepping on Lego

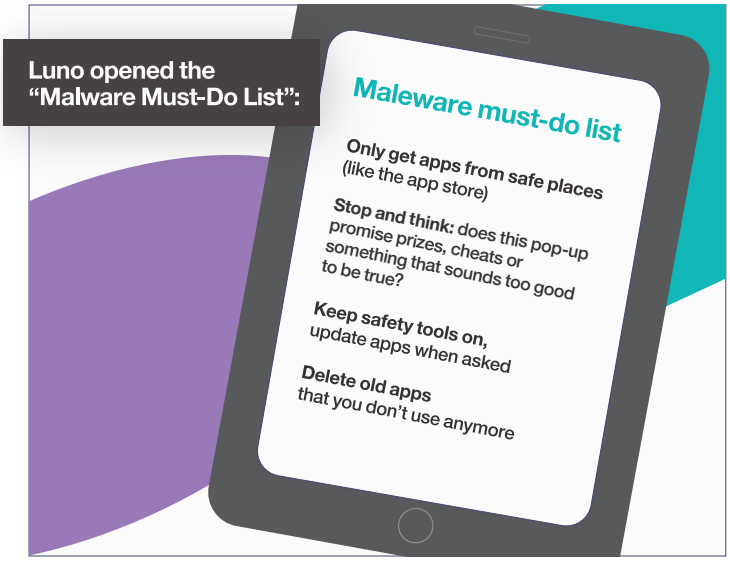
Suddenly, pop-ups danced across the screen:

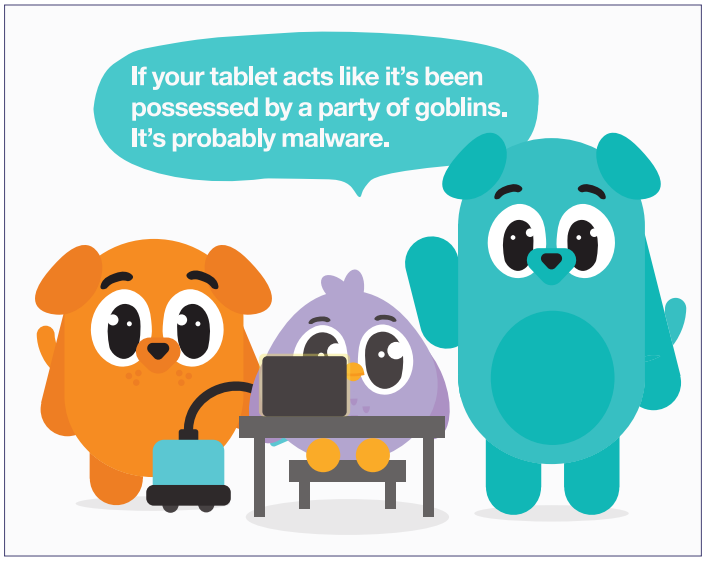


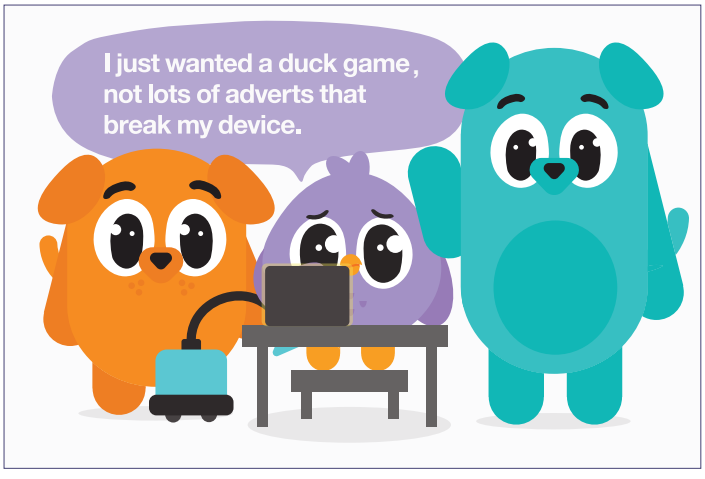


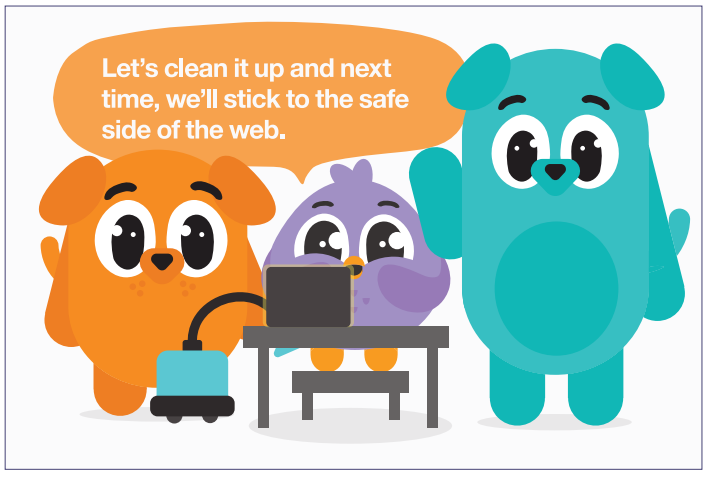




What Pico didn't know:








- He downloaded the game from a dodgy site.
- It came with malware, a sneaky computer bug. It hides inside your tablet, phone, or computer and tries to cause problems or steal things. It's bad and not your friend.
- Now Pico's tablet is full of weird apps, pop-ups, and his password has stopped working.
