

The secret friend request.

Pico is loving his new Dragon Dress-Up game, especially when 'GlitterKing22' says he looks cool! But when the new friend asks for a 'secret picture' and threatens to be mean if Pico says no, the fun stops fast. It's time for the squad to defeat the 'Mean Message Monster' and show why real friends never ask for secrets.

It was a rainy afternoon in Pixel Town

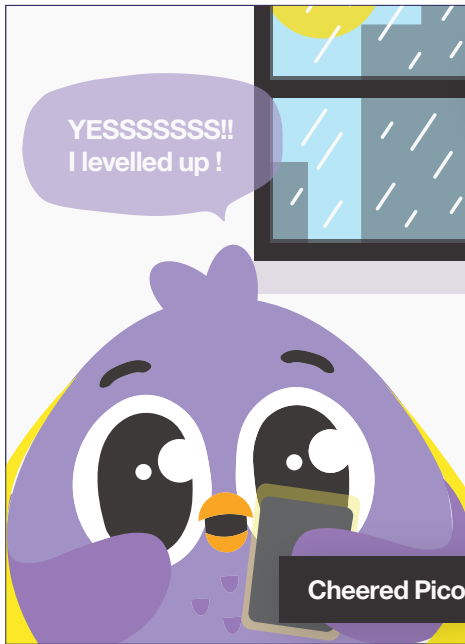

Pico was curled up with the tablet

Playing SUPER BUILDER!

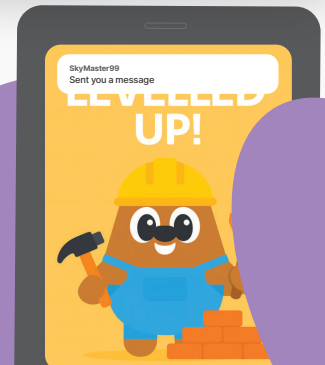

YESSSSSS!!
I levelled up!

Cheered Pico

Suddenly... a new message popped up on the screen

DING!

SkyMaster99
Hey, wanna be friends? You look cool

Message

The message came from someone called SkyMaster99

I don't remember meeting them in the game.

Pico, do you know that person in real life?

No...

But they said I am cool!

Luno joined the conversation:

Wait a minute... didn't we learn about fake online friends last week?

Moxo nodded

Yep. Tricky People pretend to be your friend, but they're not safe. They might be hiding who they really are.

Pico frowned

But they are being so nice.

They even asked what school I go to.

SkyMaster99
Hey, wanna be friends?

LilWing001
YESSS!

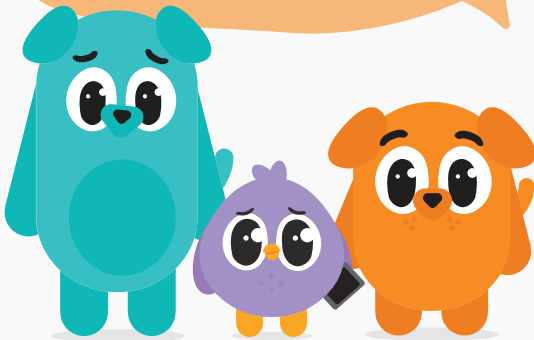

SkyMaster99
What school do you go to?
Don't tell your grown-up we are speaking

Message

And told me not to tell a grown-up.

That's a BIG red flag!
Real friends don't ask for secrets or tell you to hide things from your grown-ups.

Moxo chimmed in

Time for a safety mission!

STAY SAFE SYSTEM

- Stop talking to them
- Tell a trusted grown up
- Report them to the game monitors
- Save a copy and store chats
- Block the user

I'll block the user

Then I'll tell my Nan and show her the messages.
