

CEO & Co-Founder, Felix Paul Wagner is passionate about using technologies to combat our growing global climate issues. With his start in building an Australian Solar enterprise, Felix is not a newcomer to the exciting world of Start-ups. Moving from Australia back to his home country Germany, Felix entered the automotive industry. Currently, through his work with Circunomics, Felix tackles the challenge of bringing sustainable mobility to our next generation through the ideology of a circular economy.

CTO & Co-Founder, Jan Born is also no stranger to the industry. As Co-Founder and Partner for Next Mobility Labs, creating sustainable companies for the next generation of mobility is both a passion and daily practice. Jan brings 15+ years of experience to the table in the areas of software development, cloud computing, and architectures across the technology sector. Jan is driven by a desire to see lasting change in our communities and in our world.