I. Course Information
Course Code
Course Title	English Literature
Meeting days and Period
Room	30
Regents Date (if applicable)
Course Description	Students read a variety of texts from the HMH textbook, short stories, excerpts, poems, and novels to help develop their analytical skills. Students determine the central ideas of texts and explain how writing strategies influence the texts. These writing strategies include conflict, characterization, figurative language, and tone. In addition, students learn to craft arguments that include clear thesis statements and well-supported claims. The skills developed in this course are essential to building a foundation for success on the AP Literature and Composition exam

II. Course objectives Aligned to NYSED Next Generation Learning Standards

1. 9-10R1: Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly/implicitly and make logical inferences; develop questions for deeper understanding and for further exploration.

11-12R1: Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the

- text says explicitly/implicitly and make logical inferences, including determining where the text is ambiguous; develop questions for deeper understanding and for further exploration.
- 9-10W1: Write arguments to support claims that analyze substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.
 - 9-10W1a: Introduce precise claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from counterclaims, establish and organize clear relationships among claim(s), counterclaim(s), reasons, and evidence.
 - 9-10W1b: Develop claim(s) and counterclaims in a balanced manner, supplying evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both, anticipating the audience's knowledge level and concerns.
 - 9-10W1c: Use precise language and content-specific vocabulary to express the appropriate complexity of the topic.
 - 9-10W1d: Use appropriate and varied transitions to make critical connections and distinctions, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships among complex ideas and concepts.
 - 9-10W1e: Provide a concluding statement or section that explains the significance of the argument presented.
 - 9-10W1f: Maintain a style and tone appropriate to the writing task.
 - 11-12W1: Write arguments to support claims that analyze substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

Short Fiction I	Sherlock Holmes The Enduring Echoes: Unearthing the Past and its Impact on Crime, Justice, and Identity in the Sherlock Holmes Mysteries "The Disappearanc e of Lady Frances Carfax" "The Adventure of the Norwood Builder" "The Adventure of the Yellow Face" "The Five Orange Pips" "The Sign of Four"	Analyze how past events, long-held secrets, and historical injustices serve as foundational causes for crimes and conflicts in the selected Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Explain how Holmes's deductive reasoning and meticulous observation enable him to uncover hidden histories and their profound influence on the present-day cases. Evaluate the ways in which characters' identities are shaped, obscured, or revealed by their pasts, and how these revelations impact the resolution of the mysteries. Discuss the complex interplay between justice and morality as depicted in cases where crimes are rooted in historical grievances or deeply personal motivations. Identify and explain specific literary techniques (e.g., plot structure, characterization of Holmes and Watson, red herrings, foreshadowing) that Arthur Conan Doyle uses to build suspense and develop the theme of the past's enduring impact.	Part 1: Text Analysis Central Idea and Development: Based on the excerpt, identify a central idea the author develops regarding the impact of past events on the current mystery. Explain how the author uses one specific literary element (e.g., characterization, foreshadowing, conflict, setting) to develop this central idea. Use specific evidence from the excerpt to support your answer. Part 2: Argumentative Essay Prompt: In the Sherlock Holmes mysteries, Arthur Conan Doyle frequently demonstrates how crimes and their resolutions are deeply rooted in events, secrets, or injustices from the past. Task: Write a well-organized argumentative essay in which you analyze how Arthur Conan Doyle uses two or more literary elements (such as plot structure, characterization, foreshadowing, setting,

Free Response Question (FRQ 3)

Chinua Achebe's novel "Things Fall Apart" serves as a powerful critique of colonialism, illustrating its profound and often tragic consequences for the indigenous societies it encounters. The narrative meticulously details the intricate social, religious, and cultural fabric of the Umuofia clan, only to demonstrate how this equilibrium is shattered by the arrival of European missionaries and the subsequent imposition of British administration.

Prompt:

In Chinua Achebe's "Things Fall Apart," the author employs a range of literary techniques, including but not limited to narrative point of view. characterization, cultural symbolism, and the depiction of conflict, to illuminate the central argument that colonialism functions as a destructive force, eroding both the collective identity of a traditional society and the individual identities of its members.

Research Paper

Fall Semester: As an initial assignment for the twelfth grade, you are mandated to compose a group research paper. Your group will research a civics topic and make a group presentation of your research. This assignment will span three marking periods—from September 2025 to January 2026.

Spring Semester: To culminate the 12th grade, you are mandated to compose an independent research paper. Your research will culminate in a presentation of your research. This assignment will span three marking periods—from January 2026 to June 2026.

Below are the criterias for success.

For each research paper, the following task must be completed to earn credit.

- Annotated Bibliography
- An Outline
- Two rough drafts
- One final Draft
- One group presentation in the fall semester
- One individual presentation in the spring semester

Formative Assessment	55%
These are ongoing assessments that are designed to monitor student learning in order to provide consistent feedback. These assessments may be used by teachers to modify their teaching in an effort to improve student learning. The goal of the assessment is to assist you in identifying your strengths and challenges, and allow your teacher to target areas where you may need assistance, and likewise help the teachers to recognize where you may be struggling and address the problems immediately.	This criteria includes: Classwork/ Quizzes = 20% Homework = 15% Projects / Labs* = 20% *Labs for science courses
Citizenship	15%

This component is designed to support you in being productive students who are engaged in learning and respectful of your learning environment. The WAE believes that productive citizenship will have a great impact on your academic performance. This criteria includes the following: a) Display of positive and diplomatic behavior

- b) Compliance with the "No Cell phone Policy" of the school.
- c) Compliance with the uniform policy
- d) Active engagement during class.

Students' progress in all areas are monitored and addressed in accordance with the rubric that is designed to reflect progress.
