THE BEAUTIFUL TRUTH™

Doctor Wrinkle

“Advancing the science of skincare was more than a passion for me; it was my life’s work and the foundation of QMS Medicosmetics.”

Dr. Erich Schulte

Founder, QMS Medicosmetics

Working in the field of reconstructive plastic surgery and later in aesthetics and cosmetic surgery in Germany, facial surgeon Dr. med. Erich Schulte conducted in-depth scientific research to identify new means of improving post-surgery scar healing.

From here, he grew the idea that skin elasticity and appearance could be improved for everyone.

As a renowned skin expert, Dr. med. Schulte was obsessed with finding a solution to activate rejuvenation processes of the skin and to limit causes of skin aging.

Dr. Schulte wanted to go much deeper - as a scientist he conducted intensive research to understand and treat the causes of skin-aging.

Nick-named “The Wrinkle Doctor”, he turned to science to treat the causes – not the symptoms – of skin aging, looking for a scientific approach to stimulate – not irritate – the skin.

FOUR CAUSES OF NATURAL SKIN AGING:

Limited ability to renew cells

Loss of collagen

Free radicals

Reduced respiration of the cells

QMS' RESPONSE:

*Skin-identical collagen + Fruit and lactic acid +
High molecular hyaluronic acid + Oxygen therapy*

"TREATING THE CAUSE NOT THE SYMPTOM"

PIONEER IN COLLAGENS

MARINE COLLAGEN

1994

Marine collagen, derived from fish, was the first generation of collagen in cosmetics. It is 77% identical to human collagen. It consists of 3.000 (polypeptide) amino acid strings (so very large) and has a weight of 300 kD.

BOVINE COLLAGEN

30 Years

Bovine collagen, derived from the neck of a cow, was the second generation of collagen in cosmetics. Dr. Schulte used this collagen in post-surgery wound healing and developed it further by "cutting off the tail" (Atello = without tail) of the Amino Acid strings to allow the collagen to penetrate the skin deeper. It is 97% skin identical, and has been the gold standard for hydration of the skin as it remains in the upper levels of the skin.

RECOMBINANT COLLAGEN

The exact copy of human collagen grown on yeast in biotech labs. It has no fish or animal collagen origin. It is 100% identical to human collagen in our skin (type 1A1). With only 80 amino-acid strings it is oligopeptide and with a weight of 7,4 kD it is "micromolecular". QMS is again the first to launch a new generation of collagens in cosmetics: COLLAGen3D™ important definitions:

Difference between native, hydrolyzed, and atelo bovine collagen: Native collagen is too large to absorb; hydrolyzed collagen penetrates better but loses structure. Atelo collagen retains the triple helix and is purified for better skin compatibility and reduced sensitivity.

Recombinant Collagen: Recombinant collagen is a lab-engineered, bio-identical form of human collagen, created through advanced biotechnology where bacteria or yeast are programmed to produce pure collagen molecules. Designed for deep skin absorption to actively rebuild and strengthen the skin from within, unlike marine or animal-derived collagen which remains on the surface.
